5-Year Plan Offered To Hike Education

Actual Program Tops $2 Billion. But Part Slated For Repayment

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today to provide $1 1/4 billion in federal grants over the next five years to help conquer the nation's critical school shortage.

In a special message, the President also asked authority for federal purchase of up to $750 million worth of local school bonds (if school districts cannot sell them in private markets at reasonable interest rates) and $20 million for grants to the states for school planning.

In summary, this would mean a federal outlay over five years of some $2,020,000,000 with $750 million to be returned through eventual payment of the bonds.

The states would be required to match the federal grants for construction.

The matching, however, would be under a formula whereby the wealthiest states put up $2 for each $1 of federal money while the poorer states would get $2 for each $1 they put out.

Eisenhower said a cardinal principle of his program is that "federal grants must not reduce the incentive for state and local efforts, but rather should stimulate an increase in such efforts."

"With this program," Eisenhower said in his 2,600-word message, "we can lay the basis for better education in America in the years ahead. In this way we keep faith with our children."

EVEN BEFORE Eisenhower dispatched his message, Rep. Augustine B. Kelley (D-Pa.) said a program with such a distribution formula "would place the school business under further government control."

Kelley is author of a bill to supply $400 million a year for each of the next four years. He said it "minimizes federal control" since the assistance would go to states on the basis of their school age population without regard to income.

Kelley and Chairman Barden (D-NC) of the House Education Committee said they will press for early House action on Kelley's bill. Both said they saw no likelihood of House committee hearings on Eisenhower's program.

It was expected, however, that the Senate Education Committee would hold early hearings on Eisenhower's proposal.

The President made no mention of a question already stirring Congress—whether federal

Nixon Aide Files Suit For Damage

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A $1 1/4 million libel suit has been filed by Vice President Richard Nixon's 1952 campaign manager against a magazine he says carried an article calling him, "Nixon's secret link with the underworld."

The complaint, filed yesterday on behalf of Murray Chotiner, Los Angeles attorney, stated the article appeared in the March issue of "Behind the Scene" magazine.

Chotiner said it was part of a conspiracy to discredit him in an attempt to smirch Nixon.

Army, OSU Research Group Seek Vaccine Against 'Rabbit Fever'

COLUMBUS (AP)—Volunteer prisoners at Ohio Penitentiary will be injected with a vaccine to test its effectiveness against the disease Tularemia, the Army and the Ohio State University Research Foundation announced jointly today.

The test will be conducted by the university's health center under contract with the Army Chemical Corps.

Tularemia is sometimes known as "rabbit fever" and "deer fly fever." It has been a health problem to the military and civilian population, the announcement said.

The test is part of the Army's preventative medicine program. Prison volunteers (about 100 are needed) will be injected with a vaccine which has been under development since 1933 by Dr. Lee Foshay and his associates at the University of Cincinnati.

The volunteers later will be injected with Tularemia bacteria in small numbers to ascertain the vaccine's effectiveness.

As a control measure, some volunteers will receive only the bacterial injection. This, the announcement said, is to determine the percentage of persons in which the disease might occur in the absence of vaccination.

Prisoners who become ill will be treated with streptomycin, a drug which cures Tularemia in rapid time, officials said.

The vaccine has been used experimentally at a number of clinics throughout the country for several years.

However, the penitentiary test will be conducted under more exacting conditions, officials said.

It will provide a more accurate determination of the vaccine's effectiveness.

Ohio State University physicians and the research foundation said they accepted the Army contract only after detailed examination of vaccine test results on mice, rats, guinea pigs and monkeys.

Penitentiary Warden Ralph W. Alvis said he has agreed to provide medical facilities if enough prisoners volunteer.

The tests will take about a year for completion. They will be supervised by Dr. Samuel Saslaw, associate professor of medicine and bacteriology at the OSU College of Medicine.

Similar tests important to national defense and public health have been conducted in the past at other institutions, using prisoners as human "guinea pigs."

Level Budget Slated To Go To Congress

Spending To Be Higher With Total Expected At About $66 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to send to Congress a balanced budget, but one that contemplates higher spending, and to indicate that outlays are likely to keep climbing in the next several years.

The actual budget totals are closely guarded until disclosed to Congress next Monday.

But on the basis of Eisenhower's State of the Union message and other official pronouncements it seems certain the budget will foresee: (1) spending of up to $66 billion in the next fiscal year; (2) income of at least that much; and (3) requests for appropriations well in excess of projected spending.

At the same time, Eisenhower probably will revise his estimates for the current fiscal year, ending next June 30, to predict a balanced budget with spending at about $64 1/2 billion. That would be some three quarters of a billion dollars higher than previously forecast.

IN HIS STATE of the Union message Jan. 5, Eisenhower said his budget would forecast a balanced budget in fiscal 1956 and 1957.

If a balanced budget is achieved this fiscal year, it will be the first since 1951.

The budget is being balanced, even while spending is going up, because the expanding economy is enriching the government's income faster than spending is growing.

Aside from the balanced budget forecast, the most significant items in the forthcoming budget message, as indicated in previous announcements, are:

1. The expected sharp rise in appropriations requests, a reversal from recent years, because this indicates a rising trend of federal spending for some years to come.

2. An indicated sizable surplus (Continued on Page Two)

EAT LOTS OF BREAD seems to be Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's advice to get rid of the heavy wheat surplus. He is shown in Washington where he met 16 wheat industry representatives and told them the situation "isn't one over which to be enthusiastic." He promised to do his utmost "to build a more sound and encouraging condition."

Wheat Control End Doubtful

Farm Consumption Idea Opposed By Dem Solon

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farmers hoping for relief from government controls on wheat grown only for farm consumption may be in for a disappointment.

Chairman Cooley (D-NC) of the House Agriculture Committee said today that he and every member of his committee in both parties opposed the idea last year.

And in spite of urging from President Eisenhower that his bill be made law, Cooley said: "I don't think there's a chance on earth of the committee reversing itself."

The measure, passed by the Senate, would exempt from acreage limitations wheat grown solely for feed or seed.

"It's important to a lot of family-sized farms in Ohio, too," said Rep. Henderson (R-Ohio), author of one of the several bills proposing this exemption.

"Both the Ohio Farm Bureau and the American Farm Bureau Federation favor it."

In his farm message Monday, the President said of the "feed or seed" plan:

"BECAUSE OF the failure to pass this legislation last year, the Department of Agriculture has been compelled by law to hale before the courts farmers whose only offense was to raise and feed wheat outside their quotas.

"Correction of this problem should be delayed no longer."

But Cooley reported his committee was convinced by members of Congress from great wheat growing areas that such legislation would only add to the enormous surpluses.

In other words, he said, farmers would raise large acreages of wheat for their own use and eliminate themselves from the market of those farmers wanting to sell their wheat.

New York Votes To Back Harriman

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Harriman was armed today with a weapon that could blunt the drive for Adlai Stevenson in New York State and strengthen his own chances of winning the Democratic presidential nomination.

The weapon was unanimous endorsement of Harriman's candidacy by all 62 of the state's Democratic county chairmen.

The endorsement was made in a resolution adopted at a closed meeting late yesterday.

The delegation, with 98 votes will be the largest at the Chicago convention. Carmine G. DeSapio, Tammany leader and a national committeeman, said there was no change in Harriman's self-styled status of "inactive" candidate.

Hillsboro Educators Press Legal Fight On Segregation

CINCINNATI (AP)—The time element eventually may turn out to be the deciding factor but the legal fight over Hillsboro's alleged elementary school segregation will go on.

The school board, meeting yesterday with U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel decided to ask for a re-hearing of the case in which the U. S. Court of Appeals has ordered an immediate end to segregation.

Judge Druffel then said he would await the court of appeals ruling on the rehearing motion before deciding any future action.

Last week, the judge said he would not abide by the appeals court directive that ordered an immediate integration of all pupils in the Hillsboro schools. He said he would carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The time element in the case comes about in this manner:

The school board said it would

Accused of being the rapist who has terrorized Circleville women for nearly two months, an 18-year old high school boy pleaded guilty in municipal court late Wednesday and was bound over to the Pickaway County grand jury.

The youth, Clifford Eugene Stewart, a junior class member and second-string basketball athlete at Circleville High School, was held on a total of $50,000 bond. Following the hearing before Municipal Judge Sterling Lamb, he was returned to the Pickaway County jail.

The tall, slim Negro sat through the brief hearing with outward calm. He sat with chin resting on his left hand and answered promptly in a low voice when called upon to enter pleas to three counts of two affidavits.

Aside from signifying he understood the nature of the charges against him and his replies to the separate accusations, he had no comment.

STEWART was called from his classes at the high school and taken into custody Wednesday morning on orders of Sgt. George Green.

During several hours of questioning that followed, police said, Stewart admitted one case of rape, entering another home with intent to rape, and two additional instances in which he either tried to enter or fled from local homes.

One of the latter cases, Green said, led to the youth's apprehension, ending a long manhunt that had extended to all parts of the city under emergency police schedules ordered by City Safety Director Miller Fissell. Green said the youth's attempt to enter an E. Main St. residence Tuesday night led directly to his downfall.

According to police, Stewart knocked on the door of a residence at the corner of E. Main St. and McCrea Ave. about 9:15 p. m. Tuesday. However, officers said, Mrs. George Adkins looked through the glass portion of the front door and refused to open it. Instead, she called police, while Stewart hurried from the neighborhood.

Ohioan Held In Baffling Gotham Case

NEW YORK (AP)—A young salesman is being held as a material witness in the baffling disappearance of a 20-year-old blonde. After questioning several other men, authorities termed the case "almost certainly a criminal homicide."

"Criminal homicide" is a legal charge which could possibly mean that Jacqueline Smith died at the hands of a bungling abortionist.

Held in $25,000 bail was 24-year-old Thomas G. Daniel, who steadily dated Miss Smith since last June. The girl has been missing since Christmas Eve.

Early today a young Mexican doctor, whose name was not disclosed, and Michael Bacalos, 26-year-old handyman, were taken in for questioning.

Police said it was learned that Daniel had taken two suitcases of Miss Smith's clothing from his apartment and left them with Bacalos. They said they found the clothing in the basement of the building in which Bacalos lives.

Police said the search for the girl started Dec. 30, when her father reported her missing. Authorities said Daniel has given conflicting stories about his girl friend's disappearance: that she walked out while he dozed on a couch; that she committed suicide with a knife when he refused to marry her and he dumped her body into the Hudson River; and that a second man came to New York from Warren, Ohio, in 1953. Miss Smith came here a year and a half ago from Lebanon, Pa.

Hillsboro Educators Press Legal Fight On Segregation

CINCINNATI (AP)—The time element eventually may turn out to be the deciding factor but the legal fight over Hillsboro's alleged elementary school segregation will go on.

The school board, meeting yesterday with U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel decided to ask for a re-hearing of the case in which the U. S. Court of Appeals has ordered an immediate end to segregation.

Judge Druffel then said he would await the court of appeals ruling on the rehearing motion before deciding any future action.

Last week, the judge said he would not abide by the appeals court directive that ordered an immediate integration of all pupils in the Hillsboro schools. He said he would carry the case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The time element in the case comes about in this manner: The school board said it would

IT SAID IT was "impossible" to take 20 Negro children into the predominantly white Webster School at this time because of the "overcrowded" condition. That also was ordered by the court of appeals.

School Board President William L. Lukens said the board has a resolution ready for adoption next Monday night which will call for abandonment of the all-Negro Lincoln School on June 1. That action is in anticipation that the new Washington School will be ready for occupancy in the fall, thus permitting complete integration.

The legal fight over the 20 Negro pupils, whose parents are holding them out of school, could become meaningless if it is not settled by the time the Lincoln School is abandoned.

The appeals court decision came on an appeal by parents of Negro children, supported by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, from Judge Druffel's refusal to knock out a zoning resolution which sends most Negro pupils to Lincoln.

The school board has contended since the case first came up many months ago that there would be integration as soon as new construction work at the Webster and Washington schools could be completed.

Negroes and whites have attended Hillsboro's senior high school together for many years.

The cash budget includes receipts for social security and other trust funds which are not counted as income belonging to the government.
Such a surplus, if it increased at a time when business activity may be turning down somewhat, would increase the pressure to cut personal taxes.
This is so because a cash budget surplus means the government is taking more out of the economy than it is putting in. The quickest way to correct such a deflationary effect is by a tax cut.

Mill Operator Mishap Victim At Laurelville

Flying splinters of a shattered sawmill pulley brought injuries Wednesday afternoon to Ray Barker, 52, of Laurelville Route 2.
Barker, who was admitted to Berger Hospital, was working in the Laurelville sawmill he operates with his brothers, Paul and Jim, when the accident occurred.
While sawing a piece of lumber, it suddenly stuck in the saw, causing a belt to slip off the motor and the motor to accelerate. The acceleration of the motor caused the attached pulley to shatter, throwing fragments in all directions.
He suffered lacerations of the left hand and leg, left side of neck, a fractured finger and had one of his fingers almost severed.
He was taken to Berger Hospital by Laurelville Police Chief Henry Hill escorted by Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover. His condition was described as "good."

Israel Facing Condemnation By U. N. Council

Question Of Payments To Syria Only Hith Holding Up Action

UNITED NATIONS — Israel today faced a strong U.N. condemnation for her Dec. 1 attack on Syria and a warning that further such incidents would bring sterner measures.
Both Russia and the big Western powers were pressing for such action in the 11-nation Security Council meeting to consider their rival proposals.
The other council members were reported in general agreement that the body must go this far at least. The main point at issue was what form the resolution should take.
The Soviet proposal was worded more bluntly. It also demanded that Israel pay compensation for the loss of life and property in the raid, which was directed against Syrian outposts near the Sea of Galilee in retaliation for Syrian firing on Israeli boats on the lake. Fifty-six Syrians and six Israelis were reported killed.

THE RESOLUTION sponsored by the United States, Britain and France makes no recommendation for compensation, but a U. S. spokesman said the United States feels there is a moral basis for such payment.

The spokesman said the United States was ready to take the lead in proposing that machinery be set up to study how to provide for compensation should there be further incidents like the Dec. 1 attack.

This time, he said, the council would only raise false hopes in the families of the victims by proposing compensation when no machinery exists to insure payment.

Both the Western and the Soviet resolutions reminded Israel that the council already had condemned it for previous retaliatory attacks on neighboring Arab countries and had appealed for the Israeli government to prevent such actions.

Both resolutions also expressed concern at what they called Israel's failure to comply with its obligations under the U. N. charter and the armistice agreement.

The Soviet resolution was the first substantive proposal Russia has ever submitted on the Palestine problem. Western delegates considered it part of a continuing campaign to win the Arabs over to the Soviet camp.

It was submitted to the council unexpectedly Monday night, while the Western powers still were working on their proposal. The Western resolution was circulated late yesterday.

Bricker Approves Walters For Job

U. S. Senator John Bricker of Ohio has recommended to Washington officials the appointment of Charles Walters as permanent postmaster in Circleville.

This was revealed here today by Attorney Ray Davis, chairman of the Pickaway County Republican Executive Committee.

Davis pointed out that the senator's recommendation was anticipated in view of the committee's prior endorsement of Walters, who is now serving at the post in an acting capacity.

Davis has said it will probably "be months yet" before the appointment goes through routine channels to the Senate for final confirmation.

Health Insurance Firms Reminded

COLUMBUS (U.S.A.) — Companies writing health and accident insurance in Ohio got a reminder today that a new statute bans cancellation of such contracts except on anniversary dates.

August Pryatel, state superintendent of insurance, said he had written all companies writing health and accident policies of the strict provisions in the law that will become effective next July 1.

He said that under that law, insurance companies must permit health and accident policies to remain in force for at least one year regardless of the size or number of claims presented by holders.

Policy holders, however, can cancel their contracts at any time.

Benson Sees Soil Bank Plan Aiding Farmer This Year

WASHINGTON (U.S.A.) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the administration's new soil bank proposal could create a place in the markets this year for more than $1 billion worth of government surpluses of wheat, corn, rice and cotton.

He said "We would use the surplus to use up the surplus."
Furthermore, he said, his department could pour payments for participation in the soil bank plan into farmers' pockets by late spring or early summer.

That would bring about a quick upturn in agricultural income, now on a five-year decline, at a time when the presidential election campaign will be building up steam.

Benson gave these amplifications of the administration proposal, laid before Congress Monday by President Eisenhower in a special farm message, in a statement for a hearing of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Under the administration's soil bank proposal, farmers would be offered payments in cash and in crop surpluses to reduce plantings by at least 40 million acres.

THE PLAN is based on the idea that big farm surpluses held by the government are pushing farm prices and incomes down and that there is little hope of improving the situation until the oversupplies are reduced.

Benson's statement came as House Republicans served notice they think the new farm program falls short in the matter of a prompt cure for falling farm prices.

GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts, who presided at the closed session to which all House Republicans were invited, said afterward it was the consensus of the group that more immediate relief is needed to help farmers out of a current price squeeze.

Martin said there was general agreement on the merits of the long-range proposals which President Eisenhower laid before Congress in a special message Monday.

Farm state senators of both parties have raised the same objection that the program promises no speedy relief.

Martin said House Republicans suggested an emergency beef buying program and stepped up purchasing of pork to bolster prices for livestock producers; more purchases of such meat for the school lunch program, and liberalized farm credit, especially for veterans, to prevent farm mortgage foreclosures. Agriculture Secretary Benson was reported to have told a House group Monday he plans to step up pork buying and enter the beef markets in an effort to firm up prices.

In presenting his program, Eisenhower cautioned that it should be considered only as an emergency measure designed to help states and local communities "overcome the nation's critical classroom shortage within five years."

"We must recognize that some states have more financial resources than others. We must recognize that a weakness in education anywhere is a weakness in the nation as a whole."

"FEDERAL appropriations will most quickly accomplish the most good if a relatively large share of federal funds is distributed where local and state resources are least adequate to meet classroom needs."

The President proposed three ways of fulfilling this principal:

1. "In distributing federal funds, larger amounts per school - age child should be allotted to states with lower income per child."

2. "In fixing matching requirements, states with lower income should not be required to put up as large a proportion of funds as higher income states. For the nation as a whole, the total of state matching funds would approximately equal the total federal funds."

3. "As the states distribute these funds the highest priority should be given to school districts with the least economic ability to meet their needs."

A fact sheet issued by the Department of Welfare in connection with the President's message estimated that school construction needs over the next five years will be about 470,000 classrooms.

This summary also said that state and local governments will build 67,000 classrooms this year at a cost of $2 1/2 billion.

Part Of U. S. 23 Near Chillicothe To Be Relocated

COLUMBUS (U.S.A.) — Ohio Highway Director S. O. Linzell today decided to relocate 2.46 miles of U. S. 23 in Ross County, beginning near the north boundary of Chillicothe and running to near Hopetown.

The new road will be four lanes with limited access, in accordance with plans recommended by the engineering firm of Elmer S. Barrett Associates of Chillicothe.

The relocated road will be a short distance east of the present road, which will be abandoned as a state route.

The project, discussed Nov. 2 at a public hearing in Chillicothe, was opposed by businessmen who have established themselves along the road being abandoned. The new section is one of the few running from Columbus to Portsmouth not yet scheduled for widening to four lanes.

Atlantic Storm Holding Steady

NEW YORK (U.S.A.) — A stagnant storm center off the Atlantic Coast brought more wet and chilly weather to wide areas in the eastern third of the nation today.

Florida and other Southeast states, hit by the season's coldest weather since Sunday, didn't get much warming. In contrast, mild winter weather prevailed in most parts of the Northeast.

A mixture of rain, freezing rain and snow continued to dampen broad sections from Maine to western Tennessee and northern Alabama and Georgia.

Newsprint Setup Eyed By Senators

WASHINGTON (U.S.A.) — Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash.) said yesterday the Senate Commerce Committee is making a study of the newsprint situation in an effort to find a way "to relieve the present shortage and high prices."

Magnuson said he had been informed one cause of the pulp shortage was refusal of the Agriculture Department to permit shipment of pulp wood logs from Alaska to the United States.

He said he believed the department's action was aimed at trying to promote construction of paper mills in Alaska.

CHS Student Pleads Guilty, Held For Jury

Patrolman Richard Anderson, on desk duty.

THE POLICEMEN in the cruiser checked first the neighborhood of the Adkins home and then began to cruise over a wider area.

On Union near Clinton, about two minutes after receiving the call, they spotted Stewart and noted his description was similar to that given by the woman.

Mrs. Adkins was said to have identified Stewart as the person who had demanded admittance only a short time before.

However, Lockard quoted the youth as saying he was looking for the home of a friend. He admitted having been on the porch of the Adkins residence, the officer said.

In view of the youth's story, Lockard explained, Stewart was taken to his home for the night without being detained. He was picked up again Wednesday morning after Green, coming on day duty, had been given a report of the night's activities.

After being questioned for about three hours, Stewart signed a confession detailing his part in the four separate incidents, police said.

In preparation for the statement, Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer was called to participate with police in the questioning.

TWO OF THE four incidents covered by the signed statement involved elderly women. The rape case occurred at a S. Scioto St. residence early last month. Less than two weeks earlier, a man had forced his way into a Watt St. residence and tried to assault a woman who lived alone there.

Both of these incidents occurred after a man had succeeded in entering a home on E. Union St. near Court. All four cases mentioned in connection with the accusations were reported at relatively early hours of the evening.

Police Chief Elmer Merriman called attention to the long and painstaking way the men in his department had conducted the city-wide search. He emphasized that, while only a few officers participated directly in Stewart's arrest and questioning, "everybody on the force in some way or other deserves a big share of the credit."

He pointed out: "We spent a lot of long hours and had to put up with a lot of discouraging developments while searching," Merriman said.

"And while some of our men were engaged directly in the search from time to time, it took extra efforts by the others to keep the many other functions of the department going."

"I'm mighty proud of the way my men performed this task. They deserve some thanks."

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Saturday at the EUB Church in Hallsville with the Rev. H. C. Elliott of Columbus and the Rev. DeLong of Hallsville officiating. Burial will be in Hallsville Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Barnes residence after 10 a. m. Friday morning.

Lancaster Arrest Climaxes Search; Local Auto Stolen

A series of law infractions which began here Wednesday night was climaxed in Lancaster early this morning with the arrest of Shirley Heeter, 19, by Lancaster police.

According to sheriff's deputies, Heeter stole a car belonging to Louis Lockard of Circleville Route 1, and went to Lancaster.

There, according to sheriff reports, he broke into a grocery and the Postoffice about 12.30 a. m. While he was in the combination establishment, the car was seen by an unidentified boy in Tarlton who wrote the license number in the snow.

A hurried call to Sheriff Charles

Radcliff by Bob Hinton, former Tarlton Mayor, brought on a search. Sheriff Radcliff, who dispatched Deputies Bob Hoover and Dwight Radcliff to Tarlton, alerted law enforcement agencies in Fairfield and Ross Counties.

DEPUTIES Radcliff and Hoover picked up the tracks of the car in the snow, which showed the car had run into a tree, breaking one of the headlights.

Meanwhile, Heeter drove on to Lancaster where he reportedly was seen breaking into a tire shop. Only a March of Dimes can with a small amount of change was found missing.

Lancaster police found the car but Heeter was nowhere to be seen. A thorough search was made and police finally found him hiding in the trunk of the car.

Beaverdam Medic Pleads Innocent

LIMA (U.S.A.) — Dr. W. C. Lacoock of nearby Beaverdam, arraigned in common pleas court today on two abortion counts, entered a plea of innocent to both counts.

The physician who has practiced 26 years in Beaverdam was named in a secret indictment returned yesterday by the grand jury.

The alleged illegal operations were performed on a 26-year-old Lima housewife and a 22-year-old Indianapolis woman last June.

Dr. Lacoock was released on a $500 bond on each count.

Sliding Schoolboy Killed By Truck

COLUMBUS (U.S.A.) — A schoolboy, playfully sliding on icy sidewalks with a friend enroute to school today, lost his balance and was killed under the wheels of a passing truck in suburban Whitehall.

Police identified the boy as Robert Eugene Coleman, 14.

Investigators said the truck driver, Clyde E. Klement, 30, of Fort Atkinson, Wis., did not know of the accident until he was flagged down a short distance away.

Level Budget Slated To Go To Congress

of perhaps $5 billion in the cash budget because that could, in given circumstances, virtually force a personal tax cut.
The cash budget includes receipts for social security and other trust funds which are not counted as income belonging to the government.
Such a surplus, if it increased at a time when business activity may be turning down somewhat, would increase the pressure to cut personal taxes.
This is so because a cash budget surplus means the government is taking more out of the economy than it is putting in. The quickest way to correct such a deflationary effect is by a tax cut.

Dowden Re-elected Bank President

The annual meeting of the shareholders of the Second National Bank and the organization meeting of the board of directors were held Wednesday at the bank.
Durward D. Dowden was re-elected president of the bank. Other officers re-elected were: Joseph P. Noecker, vice president; George M. Meyers, cashier, and Eugene Wilson and Earl W. Palm, assistant cashiers.
Directors re-elected, in addition to Dowden, were: Joseph P. Noecker, John G. Boggs, Harold S. Defenbaugh and A. E. Fissell.
Other members of the bank's staff reemployed are:
William Roe McLaughlin, Blanche M. Meyers, Mary E. Weffler, Joann L. Lemley, Marguerite M. Shelton, Marjorie E. Francis, Miriam E. Weaver and Nettie J. Jenkins.

Mill Operator Mishap Victim At Laurelville

Flying splinters of a shattered sawmill pulley brought injuries Wednesday afternoon to Ray Barker, 52, of Laurelville Route 2.
Barker, who was admitted to Berger Hospital, was working in the Laurelville sawmill he operates with his brothers, Paul and Jim, when the accident occurred.
While sawing a piece of lumber, it suddenly stuck in the saw, causing a belt to slip off the motor and the motor to accelerate. The acceleration of the motor caused the attached pulley to shatter, throwing fragments in all directions.

He was taken to Berger Hospital by Laurelville Police Chief Henry Hill escorted by Deputy Sheriff Bob Hoover. His condition was described as "good."

One Traffic Case Handled In Court

Glenn D. Heeter, 31, of Circleville Route 3, today was fined $150 and costs, given a three-day driving jail sentence, and had his restrictive privileges suspended for one year.

The sentence was imposed upon him by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb on a charge of drunken driving. Heeter was arrested by city patrolman John Lockard Wednesday night.

Israel Facing Condemnation By U. N. Council

Question Of Payments To Syria Only Hitch Holding Up Action

UNITED NATIONS (AP)—Israel today faced a strong U.N. condemnation for her Dec. 1 attack on Syria and a warning that further such incidents would bring sterner measures.

Both Russia and the big Western powers were pressing for such action in the 11-nation Security Council meeting to consider their rival proposals.

The other council members were reported in general agreement that the body must go this far at least. The main point at issue was what the resolution should take.

The Soviet proposal was worded more bluntly. It also demanded that Israel pay compensation for the loss of life and property in the raid, which was directed against Syrian outposts near the Sea of Galilee in retaliation for Syrian firing on Israeli boats on the lake. Fifty-six Syrians and six Israelis were reported killed.

THE RESOLUTION sponsored by the United States, Britain and France makes no recommendation for compensation, but a U. S. spokesman said the United States feels there is a moral basis for such payment.

The spokesman said the United States was ready to take the lead in proposing that machinery be set up to study how to provide for compensation should there be further incidents like the Dec. 1 attack.

This time, he said, the council would only raise false hopes in the families of the victims by proposing compensation when no machinery exists to insure payment.

Both the Western and the Soviet resolutions reminded Israel that the council already had condemned it for previous retaliatory attacks on neighboring Arab countries and had appealed for the Israeli government to prevent such actions.

Both resolutions also expressed concern at what they called Israel's failure to comply with its obligations under the U. N. charter and the armistice agreement.

The Soviet resolution was the first substantive proposal Russia has ever submitted on the Palestine problem. Western delegates considered it part of a continuing campaign to win the Arabs over to the Soviet camp.

It was submitted to the council unexpectedly Monday night, while the Western powers still were working on their proposal. The Western resolution was circulated late yesterday.

Bricker Approves Walters For Job

U. S. Senator John Bricker of Ohio has recommended to Washington officials the appointment of Charles Walters as permanent postmaster in Circleville.

This was revealed here today by Attorney Ray Davis, chairman of the Pickaway County Republican Executive Committee.

Davis pointed out that the senator's recommendation was anticipated in view of the committee's prior endorsement of Walters, who is now serving at the post in an acting capacity.

Davis has said it will probably "be months yet" before the appointment goes through routine channels to the Senate for final confirmation.

Health Insurance Firms Reminded

COLUMBUS (AP)—Companies writing health and accident insurance in Ohio got a reminder today that a new statute bans cancellation of such contracts except on anniversary dates.

August Pryatel, state superintendent of insurance, said he had written all companies writing health and accident policies of the strict provisions in the law that will become effective next July 1. He said that under that law, insurance companies must permit health and accident policies to remain in force for at least one year regardless of the size or number of claims presented by holders.

Policy holders, however, can cancel their contracts at any time.

Benson Sees Soil Bank Plan Aiding Farmer This Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today the administration's new soil bank proposal could create a place in the markets this year for more than $1 billion worth of government surpluses of wheat, corn, rice and cotton.

He said "We would use the surplus to use up the surplus."
Furthermore, he said, his department could pour payments for participation in the soil bank plan into farmers' pockets by late spring or early summer.

That would bring about a quick upturn in agricultural income, now on a five-year decline, at a time when the presidential election campaign will be building up steam.

Benson gave these amplifications of the administration proposal, laid before Congress Monday by President Eisenhower in a special farm message, in a statement for a hearing of the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Under the administration's soil bank proposal, farmers would be offered payments in cash and in crop surpluses to reduce plantings by at least 40 million acres.

THE PLAN is based on the idea that big farm surpluses held by the government are pushing farm prices and incomes down and that there is little hope of improving the situation until the oversupplies are reduced.

Benson's statement came as House Republicans served notice they think the new farm program falls short in the matter of a prompt cure for falling farm prices.

GOP Leader Martin of Massachusetts, who presided at the closed session to which all House Republicans were invited, said afterward it was the consensus of the group that more immediate relief is needed to help farmers out of a current price squeeze.

Martin said there was general agreement on the merits of the long-range proposals which President Eisenhower laid before Congress in a special message Monday.

Farm state senators of both parties have raised the same objection that the program promises no speedy relief.

Martin said House Republicans suggested an emergency beef buying program and stepped up purchasing of pork to bolster prices for livestock producers; more purchases of such meat for the school lunch program, and liberalized farm credit, especially for veterans, to prevent farm mortgage foreclosures.

Agriculture Secretary Benson was reported to have told a House group Monday he plans to step up pork buying and enter the beef markets in an effort to firm up prices.

Funeral arrangements for Saturday are being completed by the Dawson Funeral Home, Coshocton.

Newsprint Setup Eyed By Senators
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash.) said yesterday the Senate Commerce Committee is making a study of the newsprint situation in an effort to find a way "to relieve the present shortage and high prices."

Magnuson said he had been informed one cause of the pulp shortage was refusal of the Agriculture Department to permit shipment of pulp wood logs from Alaska to the United States.

He said he believed the department's action was aimed at trying to promote construction of paper mills in Alaska.

CHS Student Pleads Guilty, Held For Jury

Patrolman Richard Anderson, on desk duty.

THE POLICEMEN in the cruiser checked first the neighborhood of the Adkins home and then began to cruise over a wider area.

On Union near Clinton, about two minutes after receiving the call, they spotted Stewart and noted his description was similar to that given by the woman.

Mrs. Adkins was said to have identified Stewart as the person who had demanded admittance only a short time before.

However, Lockard quoted the youth as saying he was looking for the home of a friend. He admitted having been on the porch of the Adkins residence, the officer said.

In view of the youth's story, Lockard explained, Stewart was taken to his home for the night without being detained. He was picked up again Wednesday morning after Green, coming on day duty, had been given a report of the night's activities.

After being questioned for about three hours, Stewart signed a confession detailing his part in the four separate incidents, police said.

In preparation for the statement, Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer was called to participate with police in the questioning.

TWO OF THE four incidents covered by the signed statement involved elderly women. The rape case occurred at a S. Scioto St. residence early last month. Less than two weeks earlier, a man had forced his way into a Watt St. residence and tried to assault a woman who lived alone there.

Both of these incidents occurred after a man had succeeded in entering a home on E. Union St. near Court. All four cases mentioned in connection with the accusations were reported at relatively early hours of the evening.

Police Chief Elmer Merriman called attention to the long and painstaking way the men in his department had conducted the city-wide search. He emphasized that, while only a few officers participated directly in Stewart's arrest and questioning, "everybody on the force in some way or other deserves a big share of the credit."

"We spent a lot of long hours and had to put up with a lot of discouraging developments while searching," Merriman said. "And while some of our men were engaged directly in the search from time to time, it took extra efforts by the others to keep the many other functions of the department going."

"I'm mighty proud of the way my men performed this task. They deserve some thanks."

Pickaway Twp. Girls Win In Essay Contest

Two Pickaway Township High School girls were declared winners of the National Employ the Handicapped Essay Contest in Pickaway County.

Sidney Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Graves of Circleville and a junior at Pickaway, took the first place award of $50.

Linda Wilson, also a junior, and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wells Wilson of Circleville Route 1, took second place honors and an award of $25.

By winning first place, Miss Graves automatically qualifies for competition on the state level.

Judges for the contest were: Durwood Dowden of the Second National Bank; Mac Noggle of the Third National Bank; and George Foreman of the First National.

AWARD MONEY was donated by the Pickaway County Bankers Association.

Essay topic was "Independence For the Handicapped Through Employment."

Awards for the state winners are scholarships and qualification for competition for the national award.

National award winners will get three-day expense paid trip to Washington and cash awards this spring. The top winner in the country in 1953 was a student from a Zanesville school.

Lancaster Arrest Climaxes Search; Local Auto Stolen

A series of law infractions which began here Wednesday night was climaxed in Lancaster early this morning with the arrest of Shirley Heeter, 19, by Lancaster police.

According to sheriff's deputies, Heeter stole a car belonging to Louis Lockard of Circleville Route 1, and went to Tarleton.

There, according to sheriff reports, he broke into a grocery and the Postoffice about 12:30 a. m. While he was in the combination establishment, the car was seen by an unidentified boy in Tarleton who wrote the license number in the snow.

Beaverdam Medic Pleads Innocent

LIMA (AP)—Dr. W. C. Lacock of nearby Beaverdam, arraigned in common pleas court today on two abortion counts, entered a plea of innocent to both counts.

The physician who has practiced 26 years in Beaverdam was named in a secret indictment returned yesterday by the grand jury.

The alleged illegal operations were performed on a 26-year-old Lima housewife and a 22-year-old Indianapolis woman last June.

Dr. Lacock was released on a $500 bond on each count.

Sliding Schoolboy Killed By Truck

COLUMBUS (AP)—A schoolboy, playfully sliding on icy sidewalks with a friend enroute to school today, lost his balance and was killed under the wheels of a passing truck in suburban Whitehall.

Police identified the boy as Robert Eugene Coleman, 14.

Investigators said the truck driver, Clyde E. Klement, 30, of Fort Atkinson, Wis., did not know of the accident until he was flagged down a short distance away.

Radcliff by Bob Hinton, former Tarleton Mayor, brought on search. Sheriff Radcliff, who dispatched Deputies Bob Hoover and Dwight Radcliff to Tarleton, alerted law enforcement agencies in Fairfield and Ross Counties.

DEPUTIES Radcliff and Hoover picked up the tracks of the car in the snow, which showed the car had run into a tree, breaking one of the headlights.

Meanwhile, Heeter drove on Lancaster where he reportedly was seen breaking into a tire shop. Only a March of Dimes can with a small amount of change was found missing.

Lancaster police found the car but Heeter was nowhere to be seen. A thorough search was made and police finally found him hiding in the trunk of the car.

Snowfall Aids Cops Nab Thief
LIMA (AP)—A light snowfall early today was the undoing of a youth who police said admitted he stole a city truck, then used it as a "getaway car" after a $40 holdup.

Robert Lee Brown, 19, was tracked to his home by footprints in the snow after a five-hour manhunt in which police, sheriff's deputies and state highway patrolmen took part.

Brown attempted to elude the chase, in its late stages, by hopping a freight train south of the city and riding into town. But his footprints gave him away.

Mike DiSalle Jovial About His Candidacy

He Expects To Face Bill O'Neill During November Ballot Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Michael DiSalle exudes confidence that he will face Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill in the November pay-off election for governor.

The former Toledo mayor made it clear to newsmen during a Columbus visit that he expected to win the Democratic nomination the May 8 primary.

And the wise cracking former OPA price controller picked O'Neill to gain the Republican nomination with this observation:

"He will be the first candidate I won't have to look up to."

O'Neill stands five feet two inches. DiSalle five feet five and one-half inches.

"Why, compared to him, I'm a giant," laughed the rotund DiSalle who is considerably under the poundage of his OPA days.

DiSalle said he was completely "non-partisan" about the Republican primary race between O'Neill and Lt. Gov. John W. Brown. "We don't care which one we beat," he cracked.

DiSalle shrugged off comment on the prospects of Robert W. Reider, Port Clinton publisher, and Mayor Frank Kryzan of Youngstown as opponents in the party primary. He expressed doubt that any Clevelanders would get into the gubernatorial race.

DiSalle waited until Gov. Frank J. Lausche announced for U.S. senator before jumping into the race to succeed him. When the Toledoan finally took out petitions last week, he was considerably behind the Republican campaigners.

At that time, O'Neill already had stacked in his office petitions bearing more than 20,000 signatures from all 88 Ohio counties. They included about 5,000 signatures from the Cleveland area. Since then about 50 petitions have come in daily.

But statute requires candidates to file not less than 1,000 nor more than 5,000 names by Feb. 8 to qualify for the nomination sweepstakes.

O'Neill announced last Nov. 21. Brown tossed in his hat officially on Nov. 30. But Brown, former Medina mayor, actually had been campaigning since soon after winning his second term as lieutenant governor. He continues to make speeches and personal appearances almost daily throughout the state.

Regardless of DiSalle's expectations, Brown's office said he already is booking appearances into July.

DiSalle, who failed to stop Republican U.S. Sen. John W. Bricker's re-election in 1952, promised a surprise campaign for the governor's chair. He said no other candidate had attempted such a campaign but declined to disclose details in advance.

George Larrick Heads Unit That Public Often Forgets

Chances are that not a single person in Pickaway County knows the man personally, and probably only a comparative few ever heard of him.

Yet, in a vital and vigilant way, he works daily to protect you and your neighbors from filthy, fraudulent or dangerous products. He is George P. Larrick, commissioner of the federal government's Food and Drug Administration, a branch that is long on work that is rarely appreciated.

From his office in Washington, in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Larrick supervises a small but determined group of FDA inspectors, chemists, toxicologists, and research workers—all of whom turn a critical eye on products sold to the public in Pickaway County or anywhere else in the nation.

It goes against Commissioner Larrick's good nature to play a part in sending someone to jail or in having valuable property confiscated, but, he will tell you, it's part of the job. Larrick knows his job well, for ever since he entered the service as an inspector in 1923, he has been on the firing line.

"ONE OF my first big assignments in the 'Twenties," Larrick recalled, "was to track down some fruitcake made by a housewife who accidentally mixed white arsenic with the flour! Through a mad scramble day and night we rounded up all except one which had been sent to Canada."

"That one was found by Canadian authorities on the night before Christmas and shipped back to this country in a diplomatic pouch."

Some of the commissioner's experiences have been rough and ready. "I'll never forget the time in Memphis, Tenn.," he continued, "when an anonymous phone caller suggested that I might see something interesting if I go to the foot of a certain street and look over the bank."

"I arrived in time to see some tough looking men cleaning the mud off Number 10 cans of rotten tomatoes and placing them in cases for resale."

"When I warned that the product was condemned by government authorities, I was threatened by a big bozo with a club. I called the United States marshal who forced them at gunpoint to dump the tomatoes in the middle of the river."

Dr. Larrick supervised the recent crackdown on the illegal sale of stimulants known as "goof balls" to truck drivers. These drugs can stimulate the driver so that his skill is impaired, causing tragic accidents.

AS COMMISSIONER (he was appointed in 1954), Larrick intends to push for improvements in the Food and Drug administration as recommended by the Citizens Advisory committee, including new laboratory quarters and additional field staff.

"If we had more inspectors," he said, "we could spend more time protecting the public against products which are misbranded or short weight. Now we can only concentrate our efforts on those items which are a menace to public health."

Larrick praised industry, in general, for its sincere effort to comply with the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic act.

Larrick feels that it is important for his agency to keep up with the fast moving developments of our age. "There may come a time," he said, "when atomic energy will be used to preserve food stuffs. We'll have to see that it won't be harmful when applied in this manner."

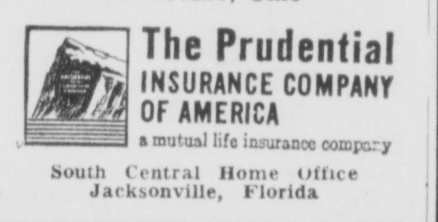

The commissioner also spoke of the increasing number of potent drugs on the market which must be used with caution.

..or for keeps?

Mike DiSalle Jovial About His Candidacy

He Expects To Face Bill O'Neill During November Ballot Test

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Michael G. DiSalle exudes confidence that he will face Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill in the November pay-off election for governor.

The former Toledo mayor made it clear to newsmen during a Columbus visit that he expected to win the Democratic nomination the May 8 primary.

And the wise cracking former OPA price controller picked O'Neill to gain the Republican nomination with this observation:

"He will be the first candidate I won't have to look up to."

O'Neill stands five feet two inches, DiSalle five feet five and one-half inches.

"Why, compared to him, I'm a giant," laughed the rotund DiSalle who is considerably under the poundage of his OPA days.

DiSalle said he was completely "non-partisan" about the Republican primary race between O'Neill and Lt. Gov. John W. Brown. "We don't care which one we beat," he cracked.

DiSalle shrugged off comment on the prospects of Robert W. Reider, Port Clinton publisher, and Mayor Frank Kryzan of Youngstown as opponents in the party primary.

He expressed doubt that any Clevelanders would get into the gubernatorial race.

DiSalle waited until Gov. Frank J. Lausche announced for U.S. senator before jumping into the race to succeed him. When the Toledoan finally took out petitions last week, he was considerably behind the Republican campaigners.

At that time, O'Neill already had stacked in his office petitions bearing more than 20,000 signatures from all 88 Ohio counties. They included about 5,000 signatures from the Cleveland area. Since then about 50 petitions have come in daily.

But statute requires candidates to file not less than 1,000 nor more than 5,000 names by Feb. 8 to qualify for the nomination sweepstakes.

O'Neill announced last Nov. 21. Brown tossed in his hat officially on Nov. 30. But Brown, former Medina mayor, actually had been campaigning since soon after winning his second term as lieutenant governor. He continues to make speeches and personal appearances almost daily throughout the state.

Regardless of DiSalle's expectations, Brown's office said he already is booking appearances into July.

DiSalle, who failed to stop Republican U.S. Sen. John W. Brickner's re-election in 1952, promised a surprise campaign for the governor's chair. He said no other candidate had attempted such a campaign but declined to disclose details in advance.

George Larrick Heads Unit That Public Often Forgets

Chances are that not a single person in Pickaway County knows the man personally, and probably only a comparative few ever heard of him.

Yet, in a vital and vigilant way, he works daily to protect you and your neighbors from filthy, fraudulent or dangerous products. He is George P. Larrick, commissioner of the federal government's Food and Drug Administration, a branch that is long on work that is rarely appreciated.

From his office in Washington, in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Larrick supervises a small but determined May 8 primary.

Law Interpreted On Taxation For CCC Loan Setup

Pickaway County Auditor Verna O'Hara relayed to local farmers today an important ruling by Stanley J. Bowers, tax commissioner with the state department of taxation.

It interprets the law on the taxation of agricultural products under loan from the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The ruling was given as follows:

Agricultural products stored on the land where produced or in a warehouse on which a Commodity Credit Corporation loan has been issued, and agricultural products under a "Purchase Agreement Plan" with the Commodity Credit Corporation, are taxable to the owner thereof in the taxing district in Ohio where stored. The location where such agricultural products are stored can be determined by the owner from either the warehouse receipt or note.

THESE THREE types of plans are commonly referred to as "Farm Stored Loans", "Warehouse Stored Loans", and "Purchase Agreement Plans". In each instance the government experts no control over the agricultural products in that the farmer or the warehouseman has custody of such products.

At no time until the United States Government takes custody of the agricultural products after the farmer has decided to release his products by not redeeming his note, is any control in the United States Government, and further, the Government has no authority to ship these products until the time when the farmer decided not to redeem the note, which event occurs after tax listing date.

Section 5701.08 of the Ohio Revised Code requires that agricultural products must be subject to the control of the United States Government and subject to shipment on order of the United States Government before qualifying for exemption.

For the manufacture of plate glass, the raw materials must be subjected to heat of 2,800 degrees Fahrenheit.

group of FDA inspectors, chemists, toxicologists and research workers—all of whom turn a critical eye on products sold to the public in Pickaway County or anywhere else in the nation.

It goes against Commissioner Larrick's good nature to play a part in sending someone to jail or in having valuable property confiscated, but he will tell you, it's part of the job. Larrick knows his job well, for ever since he entered the service as an inspector in 1923, he has been on the firing line.

"ONE OF my first big assignments in the Twenties," Larrick recalled, "was to track down some fruitcake made by a housewife who accidentally mixed white arsenic with the flour! Through a mad scramble day and night we rounded up all except one which had been sent to Canada."

"That one was found by Canadian authorities on the night before Christmas and shipped back to this country in a diplomatic pouch."

Some of the commissioner's experiences have been rough and ready. "I'll never forget the time in Memphis, Tenn.," he continued, "when an anonymous phone caller suggested that I might see something interesting if I go to the foot of a certain street and look over the bank."

"I arrived in time to see some tough looking men cleaning the mud off Number 10 cans of rotten tomatoes and placing them in cases for resale."

"When I warned that the product was condemned by government authorities, I was threatened by a big bozo with a club. I called the United States marshal who forced them at gunpoint to dump the tomatoes in the middle of the river."

Dr. Larrick supervised the recent crackdown on the illegal sale of stimulants known as "goof balls" to truck drivers. These drugs can stimulate the driver so that his skill is impaired, causing tragic accidents.

AS COMMISSIONER (he was appointed in 1954), Larrick intends to push for improvements in the Food and Drug administration as recommended by the Citizens Advisory committee, including new laboratory quarters and additional field staff.

"If we had more inspectors," he said, "we could spend more time protecting the public against products which are misbranded or short weight. Now we can only concentrate our efforts on those items which are a menace to public health."

Larrick praised industry, in general, for its sincere effort to comply with the federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic act.

Larrick feels that it is important for his agency to keep up with the fast moving developments of our age. "There may come a time," he said, "when atomic energy will be used to preserve food stuffs. We'll have to see that it won't be harmful when applied in this manner."

The commissioner also spoke of the increasing number of potent drugs on the market which must be used with caution.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I am a girl 16, though I look a bit older. I am tall (5 feet 9) and dress as attractively as my family can afford; and I also try to be as friendly as possible.

My problem is that I don't ever have any dates or boy friends, although I am considered one of the nicest girls in the community and have been told I am very good looking.

I want to tell you about one boy I am interested in. Jack, I'll call him, was graduated from high school last June. He is in the Army at present and has finished basic training; but he hasn't written to me yet, and I doubt that he will. I still care for him though I don't know why I should, as he never has asked me for a date.

I have invited him to parties, and he came to my home only once. And that time he didn't meet my parents, as it was a party, and I just didn't introduce them. Should I have done so?

Boys She Meets Cool I know he dates other girls when he comes home. I always said that he didn't date me because he didn't have a car when he was in high school. But he still doesn't have a car, and manages to see other girls.

In the past I was always asking him for his picture; and he kept saying he "forgot" to bring me one. Now I wonder, should I write him a letter, asking where I've failed? Or just write a friendly letter saying hello? Or never write or speak to him again?

Sometimes when I am with my girl friends we meet new boys, but they never seem to "go" for me. I believe all the boys I know, at school and church, think I am very nice; but they are all smaller than I; and I never do meet any tall fellows. Can you help me?

J. T. DEAR J. T.: It occurs to me that you are aggravating and perpetuating your problem (so-called) by thinking about it, pessimistically, almost to the exclusion of any other topic of meditation. Very likely your lack of boy friends and dates is an adolescent trial that time and a change of environment will solve. It is to be hoped that you will be going off to college eventually; and in larger surroundings, offering a more various social life, you will get to know congenial boys, and share a common fund of interests with them, and thus drift naturally into a dating program—free of anxious striving.

Meanwhile the best thing you can do, in the spot you're in, is to relax, and accept in tranquil spirit the present pattern of your life. And use your leisure (without boy friends) to learn a repertoire of social skills, that will help to bring a vast improvement in your fortunes later on.

For example, how well do you dance? Probably not very well, since you've had little if any practice in party dancing with boys. Thus assignment No. 1 is to take dancing lessons privately (not discussing this with any friends in the younger set) until you "float to music," as it were.

Breaking Bonds Also to be attractive at parties, you need to polish the gift of being socially contributive or amusing. You should be able to play the piano, or play cards well, or engineer a game of charades, etc. You should be consistently well read, particularly along lines of interest to boys—which includes sports, the comic strips and (for special cases) the political news of the day.

And what about your competence at outdoor sports? Do you swim, ride, play tennis? Do you fish or play golf, enough to be a good companion on such excursions? If you aren't passably informed (by experience) in these fields of activity, you are handicapping yourself in your bid for masculine acceptance.

About Jack: He won't mind your liking him if you don't seem to hound him. And he is more apt to like you in turn, if you seem to have many interesting projects in your life. Thus my advice is to send him a newsy friendly letter, after you've got keenly invested in some real interests that you can

Wooster Pair Held In Mail Theft Case

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Wooster, Ohio, couple was arrested yesterday on federal charges of stealing a bank statement from the mail box of a wealthy farmer near Wooster.

The defendants, Ralph C. McDougale, 42, and his wife, Mabel, 35, have lived in a tenant's house on the 400-acre farm of A. Edward McAfee for the last several years. They had taken the 83-year-old farmer to the doctor's office, picked up his mail for him from the roadside box and generally looked after his welfare because he lived alone.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Loren E. Van Brocklin said the couple was accused of stealing the bank statement so the farmer would not discover they had written two checks for $150 on his account. Van Brocklin said an attempt had been made to alter the statement and when this failed a portion of the statement listing the two checks was cut out.

McAfee notified authorities when he saw that the statement had been mutilated.

Mrs. McDougale, mother of four children, was released on personal bond, but her husband was unable to post $1,500 bond and was held in county jail here.

write him about. Then if he doesn't answer, close the book on him.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write to her in care of this newspaper.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. High Red Chiefs See U. S. Troupe

MOSCOW (AP) — Performers in "Porgy and Bess" all but got stage fright Wednesday night when top Soviet officials, including Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev, suddenly appeared at the show. But all went well and the visiting notables applauded vigorously during curtain calls.

Khrushchev's party included Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and top officials L. M. Kaganovich, A. I. Mikoyan, M. G. Pervukhin, M. A. Suslov and D. T. Shapilov. Premier Bulganin was not present.

Shotgun Teacher Seriously Hurt

LIMA (AP) — John Alliey suffered serious wounds in the hip and lost one finger when a 12-gauge shotgun his wife was learning to shoot went off accidentally, the sheriff's office said.

Alliey, 36, was teaching his wife how to use the gun after she told him a prowler had been around their home near Wapakoneta. Alliey is a striking employee of the Lima Westinghouse plant.

$15 Million State Building Plan To Be Given Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 15 million dollar appropriation for planning and construction of new state hospital buildings will be recommended at a special session of the General Assembly Monday.

The State Capital Planning and Improvement Board, which will make the recommendation, said it will propose $14,187,000 for actual construction and $813,000 for planning.

Plans call for an additional 30 million dollars in construction in 1957-58.

Legislative approval of the program could mean contract letting late this year or early 1957, said Dr. John D. Porterfield, state director of mental hygiene and correction.

Porterfield eliminated four projects to keep construction costs within the 15 million dollar limit the Legislature is expected to vote. The money would come from a 150 million dollar bond issue for public buildings.

The bond issue, approved by voters last November, has a 30 million dollar a year spending limit.

The 15 millions remaining after Porterfield's department takes its anticipated share probably will go for public school and state university buildings. Priority projects in these two fields may be set today. Projects approved by the board yesterday include: Lebanon, planning for a medium security reformatory—$252,000. Hawthorn State Hospital, new 200-bed patient building and expansion of central facilities—$1,585,000. Tiffin State Hospital, 100-bed reception and therapy unit—$750,000. Gallipolis State Institute, 100-bed medical and surgical building—$750,000. Cambridge State Hospital, 120-bed reception and therapy unit—$750,000. Dropped from plans were $3,900,000 for construction of the Lebanon Reformatory, a service unit at

Orient State Institute, an auditorium and chapel at Marion Correctional Institution and two units at Columbus state institutions.

Wooster Pair Held In Mail Theft Case

CLEVELAND (AP)—A Wooster, Ohio, couple was arrested yesterday on federal charges of stealing a bank statement from the mail box of a wealthy farmer near Wooster.

The defendants, Ralph C. McDougale, 42, and his wife, Mabel, 35, have lived in a tenant's house on the 400-acre farm of A. Edward McAfee for the last several years. They had taken the 83-year-old farmer to the doctor's office, picked up his mail for him from the roadside box and generally looked after his welfare because he lived alone.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Loren E. Van Brocklin said the couple was accused of stealing the bank statement so the farmer would not discover they had written two checks for $150 on his account.

Van Brocklin said an attempt had been made to alter the statement and when this failed a portion of the statement listing the two checks was cut out.

McAfee notified authorities when he saw that the statement had been mutilated.

Mrs. McDougale, mother of four children, was released on personal bond, but her husband was unable to post $1,500 bond and was held in county jail here.

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, headache, or muscular aches and pains may come on with over-exertion, emotional upsets or day to day stress and strain. And folks who eat and drink unwisely sometimes suffer mild bladder irritation... with that restless, uncomfortable feeling. If you are miserable and worn out because of these discomforts, Doan's Pills often help by their pain relieving action, by their soothing effect to ease bladder irritation, and by their mild diuretic action through the kidneys—tending to increase the output of the 15 miles of kidney tubes.

So if nagging backache makes you feel dragged-out, miserable... with restless, sleepless nights... don't wait... try Doan's Pills... get the same happy relief millions have enjoyed for over 60 years. Get Doan's Pills today!

High Red Chiefs See U. S. Troupe

MOSCOW (AP)—Performers in "Porgy and Bess" all but got stage fright Wednesday night when top Soviet officials, including Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev, suddenly appeared at the show. But all went well and the visiting notables applauded vigorously during curtain calls.

Khrushchev's party included Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, former Premier Georgi M. Malenkov and top officials L. M. Kaganovich, A. I. Mikoyan, M. G. Pervukhin, M. A. Suslov and D. T. Shaplov. Premier Bulganin was not present.

Shotgun Teacher Seriously Hurt

LIMA (AP)—John Alliey suffered serious wounds in the hip and lost one finger when a 12-gauge shotgun his wife was learning to shoot went off accidentally, the sheriff's office said.

Alliey, 36, was teaching his wife how to use the gun after she told him a prowler had been around their home near Wapakoneta. Alliey is a striking employee of the Lima Westinghouse plant.

$15 Million State Building Plan To Be Given Assembly

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A 15 million dollar appropriation for planning and construction of new state hospital buildings will be recommended at a special session of the General Assembly Monday.

The State Capital Planning and Improvement Board, which will make the recommendation, said it will propose $14,187,000 for actual construction and $813,000 for planning.

Plans call for an additional 30 million dollars in construction in 1957-58.

Legislative approval of the program could mean contract letting late this year or early 1957, said Dr. John D. Porterfield, state director of mental hygiene and correction.

Porterfield eliminated four projects to keep construction costs within the 15 million dollar limit the Legislature is expected to vote. The money would come from a 150 million dollar bond issue for public buildings.

The bond issue, approved by voters last November, has a 30 million dollar a year spending limit.

The 15 millions remaining after Porterfield's department takes its anticipated share probably will go for public school and state university buildings. Priority projects in these two fields may be set today. Projects approved by the board yesterday include: Lebanon, planning for a medium security reformatory—$252,000. Hawthorn State Hospital, new 200-bed patient building and expansion of central facilities—$1,585,000.

Tiffin State Hospital, 100-bed reception and therapy unit—$750,000.

Gallipolis State Institute, 100-bed medical and surgical building—$750,000.

Cambridge State Hospital, 120-bed reception and therapy unit—$750,000.

Dropped from plans were $3,900,000 for construction of the Lebanon Reformatory, a service unit at Orient State Institute, an auditorium and chapel at Marion Correctional Institution and two units at Columbus state institutions.

WASHINGTON (AP)—A few dates and statements out of the life of Secretary of State Dulles offer some insights into his ideas about foreign policy and his handling of it.

In April 1952, after watching the Truman administration for seven years devise various means for blocking Soviet expansion — such as foreign aid and military alliances — Dulles said:

"The United States was too much on the 'defensive' when it should have taken the initiative; it was 'dancing to whatever tune' the Russians played; and 'most of our actions have been reactions to Soviet Communist actions.'"

Since he became secretary of state in 1953 he has followed in a general way the broad policies of former President Truman: a continuance of foreign aid and even more military aid. It is perhaps the only way. No one in authority has advocated another.

Last Nov. 29 Dulles told a news conference the United States "very distinctly" had the initiative in the Middle East. He said: "I believe what we are doing (in the Middle East) is of incomparably greater importance and significance than these tentative proposals the Soviets are making."

After the expression of confidence the secretary said the United States was not going to be drawn into an attempt to match every offer of economic aid the Soviets may make to the Middle East and Asia.

But on Dec. 20 — by this time the visits of Soviet leaders to the Middle East and Asia were being considered a propaganda success, at least — Dulles made it known the administration wanted to step up its aid to the Middle East.

And President Eisenhower — although there has been congressional opposition to continuing and prolonging foreign aid — said in his Jan. 5 State of the Union message his administration wanted to set up a 10-year foreign aid program.

Then Wednesday Dulles, with Eisenhower's approval, called on the nation to "wake up" to all the implications facing this country in its struggle to keep the backward countries from Russia by economic help.

It wasn't the call so much that was unusual as the way in which it was made.

Dulles and his State Department have responsibility for making foreign policy. But Dulles said he and Eisenhower had approved a statement prepared by the American delegation to the United Nations.

This statement informed the country the Russians have shifted their tactics and that defeat in competing with them in helping underdeveloped countries economically might cost this country the cold war.

Why Dulles had not long before this called on the country to "wake up" or why the warning had to be thought up by the U.N. delegation instead of the State Department isn't clear.

TV Said Harmful To Fair Turnout

COLUMBUS (AP)—Television is killing fair attendance, says C.H. Harnden, Saginaw, Mich., manager of the Farm Products Fair.

Years ago, he told the Ohio Fair Managers Assn. annual convention yesterday, people went to fairs to learn about better farming. "Later they went for amusement. Today they don't need to leave their living rooms to see part of a big show on TV," he added.

"Some fairs have one big event on one day, but let a championship fight come on TV that day and they're killed."

Reider Claims He Is Urged To Withdraw

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Port Clinton Publisher Robert W. Reider said here last night that attempts had been made to get him to withdraw from the race for the Democratic nomination for governor.

He told Summit County precinct workers that he had been asked to run against Gov. Frank J. Lausche for the senate "because there are those who want to shunt me aside so that Lausche's policies may continue."

He said he also had been asked to withdraw from the governor's race "with promises of political preferment in the future." He described both the promises and preferment as "dubious."

Reider told the precinct workers Lausche had run individual and collective expression of the Democratic party through "the most powerful political machine this state has ever known."

The Lausche "political machine must be destroyed immediately so that Ohio can rejoin the main stream of national Democratic politics," he added.

Reider took a mild jab at Michael DiSalle of Toledo, who also is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"Mike is a brilliant man but I am afraid that his ambition for office has clouded his intentions," he said. "If, in making the statement that he will continue Lausche's policies, Mike hoped for an assist from Lausche, he is deluding himself."

Navy Issues Call For March Draft

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department is calling for 16,000 men in March, 10,000 for the Navy and 6,000 for the Army.

The Navy called for the same number of draftees in November and December, but did not ask for any in January or February. The Army's March quota is the same as for January and February.

The March call brings to 2,014,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of selective service in September 1950.

3 In Ohio Family Killed In Crash

SANDUSKY (AP)—An automobile skidded on wet pavement near here yesterday and it slid into a bridge abutment; three members of one family died.

The victims were Denver E. Carpenter, 39, machinist at a boat works here; his wife Velma, 36, and their daughter Barbara, 2.

Another daughter, Margie Ann, still is in Providence Hospital, where she was born Christmas day. The only other member of the family, 11-year-old Denver Jr., was in school.

Sting Of Wasp Blamed In Death Of Michigan Girl

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Sitting in the living room of their farm home Wednesday night, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Schuster heard a scream from a bedroom where their 10-year-old daughter Jeannie was sleeping.

As they burst into the room Jeannie gave a low moan and lost consciousness.

The bewildered parents tried frantically to determine what had happened.

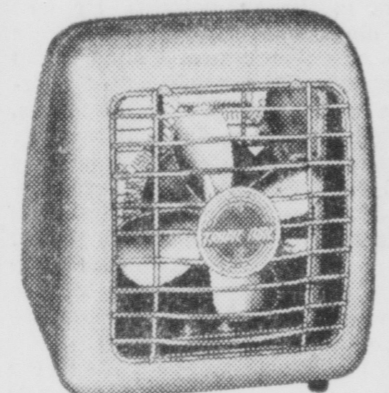

Then Schuster found a dead wasp beneath the covers of Jeannie's bed. He called a doctor.

The girl was dead when he arrived.

The doctor said Jeannie had died of anaphylactic shock—induced by extreme sensitivity to insect stings.

HEALTHY TRIO

STOCK TAKING of the year-end inventory of pharmaceutical drugs suggests that the verdict of history, in the long term, may be to refer to this as the "Wonder Drug" age. The list of significant medicines that have been discovered, tested or proved in 1954 represents a spectacular accomplishment on the part of medical science.

Heading the list, of course, is the Salk polio vaccine; if the results of last Spring's nationwide test, currently being evaluated, turn out as satisfactorily as anticipated, this indeed will rank as one of the major medical discoveries of all time.

Improved techniques in handling anti-tuberculosis antibiotics and the perfection of other potent microbe killers rank as another outstanding achievement in the year. All told the drug trade reports the development of 513 new pharmaceuticals of all types during 1954.

Among other key developments was the discovery of synthetic oily vitamins, taking the fish taste out of cod liver oil; a new cement coating for tablets, simplifying the administration of certain medicines; an anti-Parkinsonism drug, and a new anti-rabies serum, said to be the first in 25 years.

The medical practitioner, researcher and pharmaceutical technician, in joining forces to push back the longevity of human life, have truly forged one of the most remarkable collaborations of the times.

A NEW APPROACH

THREE YOUNG men at the Kansas State University who had hopes of becoming millionaires—still a worthy ambition—must be accorded grudging admiration for a direct, if a bit unusual, approach. They wrote letters to names in a telephone directory asking for cash donations.

They stated their case with complete candor: "We want to become rich," they admitted. "Think how you have struggled to gain your present position. You can make it much easier for us by sending a donation."

A clever scheme, what? Postal authorities say they have violated no law. They promised nothing in return for donations. There were no threats, no thought of extortion. Just a simple request for a donation to help them on their way to riches.

Involved in this incident is a modern trend in youthful thinking. Why work for what you want when it can be had for the asking? If modern youth lacks any one quality more than another it is a determination to achieve success the hard way. Youth hesitates to tackle the long pull which modern competition demands. The Kansas boys had an original idea, but its big drawback was oversimplification.

MUSCOVITE DISCOVERY

THOSE INTRIGUING characters in Moscow, the Muscovites, have made another discovery, gleefully announced by the Moscow radio. People in Russia, they say, live longer.

The obvious retort is that maybe it only seems longer. The Moscow transmitter says there are 5,142 men and women in the Soviet Union who have endured life in Russia for more than 100 years. The oldest Soviet citizen is 143, Moscow said, his wife has passed the 120th milestone, and they

These Days

Like all Americans, I read in the newspapers that Grace Kelly, of the Philadelphia Kellys, is to be married to Rainier Grimaldi, called "His Serene Highness," which may be the style in Europe but here everybody is just plain Mister except a Congressman who calls himself "Honorable" — a word about which Shakespeare said the last word.

Some of my colleagues are trying to make a Cinderella story out of this but the facts reject the notion. Grimaldi gets less than $150,000 a year from the gambling joint at Monte Carlo. The gambling house brings in enough dough to cover all the expenses of Monaco, so the citizens pay no taxes. That makes the Prince very popular. Any ruler is popular if the people pay no taxes.

Grace's father started as a bricklayer in Philadelphia. He saw his chance and eventually became a contractor and went into Democratic politics. Despite the fact that Philadelphia was then a Republican city, the combination was good and John B. Kelly cleaned up.

He is now regarded as a very rich man, a prince of contractors. Grace makes a lot of money in Hollywood as a movie star. John B. Kelly once got the heave-ho from the British because he had laid bricks for a living, whereas Winston Churchill, when he had nothing to do, laid bricks for pleasure.

Anyhow in Philadelphia and thereabouts, John B. Kelly is regarded as a gentleman and belongs to a country club. If Grace continues to make pictures, she can earn more than the Prince earns renting the gambling house at Monte Carlo.

So, there is no Cinderella, but just an American success story, and Mr. Grimaldi is doing very well by himself, marrying into the Philadelphia Kellys and we all wish them luck and hope they have a big family, so the decadent French do not grab off the gambling house which they have a contract to do provided there are no descendants.

Grimaldi comes from an Italian family from Genoa which is famous because there Christopher Columbus was born. The Grimaldis got jobs in Genoa and Monaco which was, in the Middle Ages, a good port for pirates. In the 14th Century, Charles I, of the Grimaldi family, bought the claims of the Spinola family to Monaco.

The Grimaldis generally were associated with France, but when it paid them, they switched around, Augustin Grimaldi in 1524 allying himself to Charles V. Honore I, Augustin Grimaldi's successor, was made Marquis of Campagna and Count of Canosa and the family could tax ships that passed the port and they got other privileges.

In 1641, they threw off the Spanish yoke and went back to the French yoke and the rulers of Monaco called themselves Dukes of Valentinois. They also strengthened themselves by marriages.

The French Revolution hit the Grimaldis hard because France grabbed Monaco back in 1793. However, the Grimaldis got the place back in 1814, and finally, in 1860, when Nice was transferred to France from Sardinia, the Grimaldis came under French protection. By the deal with France, the Prince of Monaco must always be a married man, which is just as well.

That will give you an idea. But, dropping down a bit, Radio Station LIE says there are 40,000 Russians who are more than 90, of whom about 30,000 are women. This latest foray of the reds into the field of exaggerations should not be ignored by American soap companies.

If what the Moscow radio says is true, a mortal blow will have been dealt to the entire soap industry.

CHAPTER THIRTY-SIX
LORA followed Wade into the hall without answering, while he lighted her way. There was danger in this new softening toward her. Because she felt suddenly guilty, she tried to make their midnight meal a gay adventure. They closed the kitchen door with secret laughter, lest they waken his mother, and behind the shutters they lighted only candles, lest one of the servants see brighter lamplight and come to investigate.

There was cold chicken left from dinner in the icebox, and a bowl of potato salad. She poured glasses of rich milk, dipped that very morning from the huge cans brought around by the milk cart. Lora ate hungrily, while Wade nibbled a bite here and there without the appetite he had claimed.

"Did you get Morgan quieted after I left?" he asked, when they came to a halt in their self-conscious effort to be gay.

"We had no trouble," Lora told him. "I put on my schoolmarm manner and she turned right into a weepy child and did what I told her to do. She went to sleep almost at once."

"No more accusations or dramatics?"

Lora considered the question and decided on frankness. There had been too much of secrecy and subterfuge in this house. "She blurted out that she still wanted you and would fight anyone for you."

Wade flung down his napkin. "Why must she always want what ever is denied her? Even as a child, the thing over which she was balked was the thing she must have. There's no affection in her feeling toward me, not even liking. She has only contempt for me, really. And I dislike her heartily."

Lora bit the last speck of meat from a chicken leg and wiped her fingers free of grease. "Since we're being truthful with each other tonight, will you let me ask you something?"

"I know," he said ruefully. "You're thinking of that time in the woods when Jenny saw us. You want to know why?"

She nodded. "That's the one."

thing that doesn't fit any pattern I can find for you. You would never have turned away from Virginia."

He made a quick, despairing gesture. "No, I would not," he said. "And yet—"

And yet . . . Lora thought, remembering Adam.

"I'll try to tell you what happened," he said, and there was sudden urgency in his voice. "Do you know that there was a time when I might have married Morgan?"

"I guessed so."

"Morgan came to me that day in the woods in the quiet, gentle way she sometimes used to adopt as a child and which always appealed to me. She grasped at nothing, asked for nothing. She was crying when she finished telling me how much she loved Virginia and me, and somehow all my old feeling for her came back and I held her close to me and kissed her."

He was silent, and Lora reached across the table to touch his hand comfortingly. "But later, of course, Morgan became her old self again and tried to use that moment to reinstate herself with me. After Virginia's death, I could only feel repelled by her then. By that time I knew that Virginia might well have died because I'd held Morgan in my arms for those few moments. I told Morgan that I wanted nothing more to do with her. Lora, you know that I truly loved Virginia."

Lora nodded. She knew indeed. As truly as she loved Wade, even at the moment of kissing Adam that very afternoon. Suddenly she found herself blurted out the moment with Adam, and dared not watch Wade's face. But he did not draw stiffly away, only put his arm warmly about her waist.

They walked to the open window and stood looking out at the pale moon and feeling the mild April night.

"Spring!" Wade whispered. "You can almost hear things growing, new things."

Then more firmly, "Lora, I must tell you, I'm not working with Norwood. I figured the Circle out quite a while ago. I've been writing articles for a New York paper."

She nodded. "That's the one."

in favor of an Lincoln's program, and the editor wants me to write daily pieces for him on politics from now on."

"And you can do it," Lora said softly. "You are your own man now."

He drew a full deep breath that swelled his lungs. "It makes me feel the way I used to as a little boy. As if something mysterious were ahead of me. I can remember a place where the spring sun used to warm a broken wall up the hill. I've gone there sometimes to sit alone and feel myself part of the growing. Part of every living thing."

She leaned her cheek against his arm for just a moment because there were no words to give him. She could love that little boy he had once been just as she could love Jenny. He traced the curve of her cheek with his fingers and felt the coolness of her skin.

"You're chilled. Enough of this mooning in the back yard. Back to bed with you. Ellie will never get over it if she sees us here."

They laughed together lightly and hurried inside to put things away, conceal all evidence of their repast. If Ellie found some of her chicken gone tomorrow, she could think what she liked, but at least they would leave no betraying signs.

Together they went upstairs, their shadows marching tall beside them in the candlelight. He was not like Adam. He would never be like Adam—rough and sudden and compelling. There was both tenderness and gentleness in his arms, though they were strong as they drew her close. There was no need to tell him what she thought because his mouth was warm upon hers and even as her pulses stirred she knew that his kiss meant more than this quick response of the blood. It meant both climax and beginning.

A puff of sea breeze came in the open window, guttered the candle low, then blew it to high flame. It flung the curtains aside and went off in a hurry through the woods.

Far up on the hillside the pool stirred, rippling softly at its touch, then slept again peaceful and untroubled in the summer night.

A Few Adjustments Will Insure Bathroom Safety

By HERMAN M. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHILE the bathroom is a relatively safe place in comparison with other rooms in most homes, there are many hazards here which can be eliminated with a little thought.

The very combination of two things you'll find in every bathroom, water and electricity, present the greatest hazard.

Most everyone, of course, knows the danger of touching any electric fixture or appliance with wet hands or while standing on a damp floor. Yet, did you know that merely touching a metal water faucet while turning on an uninsulated light fixture might be just as fatal?

Metal Faucet

Simultaneous contact with a metal faucet and the brass portion of a light socket or pull chain completes a circuit. If you have a light over the washbowl in your bathroom which is controlled by a pull device make sure this chain and the outside of the light socket are not made of metal.

Bathroom pull cords, if possible, should be replaced by wall switches. If you cannot do this, make sure the metal chains are replaced with cords or at least that an insulated link is installed in the chain about one inch from the opening shell of the light.

Electric Shavers

All electric appliances except electric shavers should be banned from the bathroom.

Since most home accidents involve falls, place a good, firm "L" shaped handrail on the wall alongside the bathtub. And shower curtain rods should be anchored firmly to the studding, not merely to the plaster. These are the first things a falling bather tries to grasp.

Replace all porcelain handles with handles made of metal or other safe materials. Porcelain handles frequently break, causing serious cuts.

Sections of medicine cabinets containing dangerous drugs, laxatives and the like should be locked. And do not forget an open medicine cabinet door might mean a nasty bump on the head.

Place all towel and clothes hooks above eye level to prevent face injuries. And do not use more than one type of toilet or bathtub cleaner at one time. Some cleaners and solvents produce a deadly gas when used at the same time.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Y. E. T.: My brother had a scar on his face, which healed with a very large, red scar. Will the scar recur if it is cut out?

Answer: Certain people have a tendency to form large scars or keloids following injury. Usually they do have a tendency to recur. However, X-ray treatment during the healing stage can prevent this to some degree.

Pity The White Collar Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many a white collar worker today believes he has become civilization's biggest sucker, the forgotten man of the 20th Century.

His voice is relatively unheard in the land. Few politicians bother to ask his views or explore his plight. The only people who seek him out are bill collectors, and it is his cash, not his charm, that draws them.

Let us get out our crying towel and listen to the woes of a typical member of the paper clip brigade, which run about as follows:

"Every other class in America seems to get something special from the government except the white collar class. Why are we overlooked? When do we get our turn at the public trough?"

"They talk about a soil bank for farmers. How about a fund to pay for our soiled white collars?"

"Why can't Congress at least vote us some help under the foreign aid program? Certainly no group has been more foreign to government aid than the white collar class."

Farmers have a lobby. Veterans have a lobby. Manufacturers have a lobby. The unions have a lobby. So do the railroads, the utilities, the airlines, the shipping interests. Even postmen, schoolteachers, toy makers and amateur bird watchers have their lobbies.

About the only two groups in America who don't have a lobby are white collar workers and widows.

Time has passed the white collar man by.

It used to be the guys in overalls who stood in line at the loan office seeking to borrow money. Today it's the guys in the dirty white collars.

The average white collar worker now is the greatest prisoner of the installment plan and the finance company. Debts go with his daily bread.

If he takes a vacation trip, he first has to float a loan.

If he needs a new car, he first has to borrow money for a new suit in order to look presentable enough to persuade a finance company to advance him the dough to make the down payment on the automobile.

The white collar man is haunted not only by his present predicament but by fears for the future. He is afraid automation scientists will dream up new and more efficient business machines that will do away with his very job, turning him into a refugee from progress. Where is the man on a white horse who will lead the white collar class back to its old security? He is nowhere in sight. Alas, even white horses are getting scarcer.

There was cold chicken left from dinner in the icebox, and a bowl of potato salad. She poured glasses of rich milk, dipped that very morning from the huge cans brought around by the milk cart. Lora ate hungrily, while Wade nibbled a bite here and there without the appetite he had claimed.

"Did you get Morgan quieted after I left?" he asked, when they came to a halt in their self-conscious effort to be gay.

"We had no trouble," Lora told him. "I put on my schoolmarm manner and she turned right into a weepy child and did what I told her to do. She went to sleep almost at once."

"No more accusations or dramatics?"

Lora considered the question and decided on frankness. There had been too much of secrecy and subtlety in this house.

"She blurted out that she still wanted you and would fight anyone for you."

Wade flung down his napkin. "Why must she always want whatever is denied her? Even as a child, the thing over which she balked was the thing she must have. There's no affection in her feeling toward me, not even liking. She has only contempt for me, really. And I dislike her heartily."

Lora bit the last speck of meat from a chicken leg and wiped her fingers free of grease. "Since we're being truthful with each other tonight, will you let me ask you something?"

"I know," he said ruefully. "You're thinking of that time in the woods when Jenny saw you. You want to know why?"

She nodded. "That's the one thing that doesn't fit any pattern I can find for you. You would never have turned away from Virginia."

He made a quick, despairing gesture. "No, I would not," he said.

"And yet—" Lora thought, remembering Adam.

"I'll try to tell you what happened," he said, and there was sudden urgency in his voice. "Do you know that there was a time when I might have married Morgan?"

"I guessed so."

"Morgan came to me that day in the woods in the quiet, gentle way she sometimes used to adopt as a child and which always appealed to me. She grasped at nothing, asked for nothing. She was crying when she finished telling me how much she loved Virginia and me, and somehow all my old feeling for her came back and I held her close to me and kissed her."

He was silent, and Lora reached across the table to touch his hand comfortingly.

"But later, of course, Morgan became her old self again and tried to use that moment to reinstate herself with me. After Virginia's death, I could only feel repelled by her then. By that time I knew that Virginia might well have died because I'd held Morgan in my arms for those few moments. I told Morgan that I wanted nothing more to do with her. Lora, you know that I truly loved Virginia?"

Lora nodded. She knew indeed. As truly as she loved Wade, even at the moment of kissing Adam that very afternoon. Suddenly she found herself blurring out the moment with Adam, and dared not watch Wade's face. But he did not draw stiffly away, only put his arm warmly about her waist.

They walked to the open window and stood looking out at the pale moon and feeling the mild April night.

"Spring!" Wade whispered. "You can almost hear things growing, new things."

Then more firmly, "Lora, I must tell you, I'm not working with Norwood. I figured the Circle out quite a while ago. I've been writing articles for a New York paper."

DIET AND HEALTH

A Few Adjustments Will Insure Bathroom Safety

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WHILE the bathroom is a relatively safe place in comparison with other rooms in most homes, there are many hazards here which can be eliminated with a little thought.

The very combination of two things you'll find in every bathroom, water and electricity, present the greatest hazard.

Most everyone, of course, knows the danger of touching any electric fixture or appliance with wet hands or while standing on a damp floor. Yet, did you know that merely touching a metal water faucet while turning on an uninsulated light fixture might be just as fatal?

Metal Faucet

Simultaneous contact with a metal faucet and the brass portion of a light socket or pull chain completes a circuit. If you have a light over the washbowl in your bathroom which is controlled by a pull device make sure this chain and the outside of the light socket are not made of metal.

Bathroom pull cords, if possible, should be replaced by wall switches. If you cannot do this, make sure the metal chains are replaced with cords or at least that an insulated link is installed in the chain about one inch from the opening shelf of the light.

Electric Shavers

All electric appliances except electric shavers should be banned from the bathroom.

Since most home accidents involve falls, place a good, firm "L" shaped handrail on the wall alongside the bathtub. And show-er curtain rods should be anchored firmly to the studding, not merely to the plaster. These are the first things a falling bather tries to grasp.

Keep all soap in a soap dish or container that will hold even tiny pieces.

Dripping Water

Hanging clothes in the bathroom can be very dangerous. But if you must dry them there, hang them over the tub so that dripping water won't make the floor slippery.

Replace all porcelain handles with handles made of metal or other safe materials. Porcelain handles frequently break, causing serious cuts.

Medicine Cabinets

Sections of medicine cabinets containing dangerous drugs, laxatives and the like should be locked. And do not forget an open medicine cabinet door might mean a nasty bump on the head.

Place all towel and clothes hooks above eye level to prevent face injuries. And do not use more than one type of toilet or bathtub cleaner at one time. Some cleaners and solvents produce a deadly gas when used at the same time.

QUESTION AND ANSWER

Y. E. T.: My brother had a cut on his face, which healed with a very large, red scar. Will the scar recur if it is cut out?

Answer: Certain people have a tendency to form large scars or keloids following injury. Usually they do have a tendency to recur. However, X-ray treatment during the healing stage can prevent this to some degree.

Jackson Township PTS Hears Civil Defense Talk

Mr. Chester Dyke Addresses Group

Civilian Defense was the program topic of the Jackson Township Parent-Teachers Society meeting held recently in the school.

Mr. Chester Dyke, assistant civilian defense director of Pickaway County spoke on this subject and showed two slides entitled "First Aid," and "Our Cities Must Fight."

During the meeting, called to order by the president, John Keller, Mrs. Scott Radcliff, Township Red Cross chairman, spoke on the Red Cross blood bank and asked for blood donors.

School Superintendent Robert Moyer spoke on the current polo drive.

He also discussed "Philosophy and Objectives of Education." In this talk, he stated "not only the philosophy of teachers and school officials is needed, but also the philosophy of the parents."

He recommended a three-member parent-committee be elected and Mrs. Clark Maughmer was chosen to represent the PTS on this committee in response to Mr. Moyer's request for such a group.

The third grade received the attendance banner for January having had the highest percentage of parents present at this PTS meeting.

Devotions, in charge of the fifth grade, consisted of Scripture reading of Psalm 23 by Nancy Stevenson. Clarke Maughmer led the pledge to the flag and the "Lord's Prayer," and Michael Overly read the poem "Today."

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overly, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Chester McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Green, Mr. and Mrs. John Eitel, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kern.

12 Attend Recent Meeting Of First EUB Ruth Circles

Eleven members and one guest were present at the recent meeting of the Ruth Circles of the First EUB Church. They met in the home of Mrs. George Ankrom of Hayward St.

Mr. C. O. Kerns, Circle captain, opened the session with prayer and the responsive reading of the 13th Chapter of First Corinthians.

The business meeting was then held. Various members closed this part of the meeting with short prayers.

The program was conducted by Mrs. Frank Hawks. Histories were given of the songs: "God Will Take Care of You," "What a Friend We Have in Jesus," and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The group sang each song after the explanation.

Two poems, written by the late Emma and Kate Grand-Girard, were also read.

This part of the meeting was closed by repeating the Lord's prayer.

During the social hour contests were led by Mrs. Charles Ater and Mrs. Kelly Alderman. Winners were Mrs. Leroy Thomas and Mrs. Hawks.

A salad course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Maxine Davis and Mrs. Marie Goodman.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Turney Ross of E. Union St.

John Duvall Jr. Marries Miss Shafer In Chillicothe

Miss Loeanne Jean Shafer recited nuptial vows with Mr. John Duvall Jr. Dec. 30, before the palm-banked altar of Tabernacle Baptist Church in Chillicothe.

The Rev. Herschel Roper performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the couple's immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shafer of Chillicothe and Mr. Duvall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Duvall of Circleville Route 2.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of candlelight satin designed with a fitted bodice, a scooped neckline edged with seed pearls and long sleeves tapered to points over her wrists.

The bouffant skirt, worn over a hoop, was caught at intervals with tiny rosebuds of similar material. Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a heart-shaped white satin hat.

She carried a White Bible topped with white feathered carnations centered with a white orchid, and wore pearl drop earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Marilyn Rose was the bride's only attendant. Her waltz-length gown of deep-rose satin featured a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and short sleeves. She wore a half hat of rose satin and carried a colonial bouquet of variegated pink feathered carnations and tiny rosebuds.

Mr. William Duvall was best man for his brother.

A reception was given at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with white roses and topped with a miniature bridal couple. Holiday greenery and white candles in seven branch candelabra completed the decorations in the dining room.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Philip Ekvall, Mrs. Robert Wiseman and Mrs. Charles Page.

The newlyweds are living in Apartment 51, Western Hills, Pohlman Rd., Chillicothe.

Mrs. Hill Hosts Circle 1 of WSCS

Circle 1 of the Methodist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Herschel Hill of Circleville Route 3.

Mrs. W. E. Reichelderfer opened the meeting by giving the devotions. After the business meeting, Mrs. Robinette, in charge of the program, gave a skit on not being resentful.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hill, who was assisted by Mrs. Charles DeNeef, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. Waldo Reichelderfer and Mrs. E. A. Buskirk.

Jackson Township PTS Hears Civil Defense Talk

Mr. Chester Dykes Addresses Group

Civilian Defense was the program topic of the Jackson Township Parent-Teachers Society meeting held recently in the school.

Mr. Chester Dyke, assistant civilian defense director of Pickaway County spoke on this subject and showed two slides entitled "First Aid," and "Our Cities Must Fight."

During the meeting, called to order by the president, John Keller, Mrs. Scott Radcliff, Township Red Cross chairman, spoke on the Red Cross blood bank and asked for blood donors.

School Superintendent Robert Moyer spoke on the current polio drive.

He also discussed "Philosophy and Objectives of Education." In this talk, he stated "not only the philosophy of teachers and school officials is needed, but also the philosophy of the parents."

He recommended a three-member parent-committee be elected and Mrs. Clark Maughmer was chosen to represent the PTS on this committee in response to Mr. Moyer's request for such a group.

The third grade received the attendance banner for January having had the highest percentage of parents present at this PTS meeting.

Devotions, in charge of the fifth grade, consisted of Scripture reading of Psalm 23 by Nancy Stevenson. Clarke Maughmer led the pledge to the flag and the "Lord's Prayer," and Michael Overly read the poem "Today."

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by: Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Minor, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Overly, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Chester McCord, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Green, Mr. and Mrs. John Eitel, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kern.

12 Attend Recent Meeting Of First EUB Ruth Circles

Eleven members and one guest were present at the recent meeting of the Ruth Circles of the First EUB Church. They met in the home of Mrs. George Ankrom of Hayward St.

Mr. C. O. Kerns, Circle captain, opened the session with prayer and the responsive reading of the 13th Chapter of First Corinthians.

The business meeting was then held. Various members closed this part of the meeting with short prayers.

The program was conducted by Mrs. Frank Hawks. Histories were given of the songs: "God Will Take Care of You", "What a Friend We Have in Jesus", and "Blest Be the Tie That Binds". The group sang each song after the explanation.

Two poems, written by the late Emma and Kate Grand-Girard, were also read.

This part of the meeting was closed by repeating the Lord's prayer.

During the social hour contests were led by Mrs. Charles Ater and Mrs. Kelly Alderman. Winners were Mrs. Leroy Thomas and Mrs. Hawks.

A salad course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Maxine Davis and Mrs. Marie Goodman.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Turney Ross of E. Union St.

John Duvall Jr. Marries Miss Shafer In Chillicothe

Miss Loeanne Jean Shafer recited nuptial vows with Mr. John McLain Duvall Jr. Dec. 30, before the palm-banked altar of Tabernacle Baptist Church in Chillicothe.

The Rev. Herschel Roper performed the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the couple's immediate families.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Shafer of Chillicothe and Mr. Duvall is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Duvall of Circleville Route 2.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a waltz-length gown of candlelight satin designed with a fitted bodice, a scooped neckline edged with seed pearls and long sleeves tapered to points over her wrists.

The bouffant skirt, worn over a hoop, was caught at intervals with tiny rosebuds of similar material.

Her shoulder-length veil was caught to a heart-shaped white satin hat.

She carried a White Bible topped with white feathered carnations centered with a white orchid, and wore pearl drop earrings, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Marilyn Rose was the bride's only attendant. Her waltz-length gown of deep-rose satin featured a fitted bodice, scoop neckline and short sleeves. She wore a half hat of rose satin and carried a colonial bouquet of variegated pink feathered carnations and tiny rosebuds.

Mr. William Duvall was best man for his brother.

A reception was given at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with white roses and topped with a miniature bridal couple. Holiday greenery and white candles in seven branch candelabra completed the decorations in the dining room.

Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Philip Ekvall, Mrs. Robert Wiseman and Mrs. Charles Page.

The newlyweds are living in Apartment 51, Western Hills, Pohlman Rd., Chillicothe.

Mrs. Hill Hosts Circle 1 Of WSCS

Circle 1 of the Methodist Church met recently in the home of Mrs. Herschel Hill of Circleville Route 3.

Mrs. W. E. Reichelderfer opened the meeting by giving the devotions. After the business meeting Mrs. Robinette, in charge of the program, gave a skit on not being resentful.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hill, who was assisted by Mrs. Charles DeNeef, Mrs. Clarence McAbee, Mrs. Waldo Reichelderfer and Mrs. E. A. Buskirk.

Leasure-Hill Plan Easter Nuptials

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Moats of S. Court St. are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Miss Faye Anne Leasure to Mr. Donald E. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Hill of Circleville Route 3.

Miss Leasure is a graduate of Circleville High School and is associated with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Columbus.

Mr. Hill also is a graduate of Circleville High School and is now a junior at Ohio University in Athens. He served four years with the U. S. Navy in San Diego, Calif. The marriage will be an event of April 1, Easter Sunday.

Dulles Warns Against Cut In A-Testing

Secretary Of State Says U. S. Must Keep Leadership In Field

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles believes the United States is in the forefront in atomic arms knowledge, but he says this is partly a matter of speculation, and this country cannot suspend tests on nuclear devices.

Dulles said the Eisenhower administration believes it is imperative to keep in the forefront in this field.

Until a dependable plan for disarmament has been agreed upon, he said, which includes control and inspection of such weapons it is not safe to discontinue tests.

The secretary's news conference remarks were in response to questions. By implication, they were a reply to agitation among some Asian nations, India in particular, for an end to tests of nuclear weapons.

There have been reports from congressional sources that the United States will conduct new super H-bomb tests in the Pacific this year.

Also at the news conference Dulles released a statement calling on the country to "wake up" to all the implications of the cold war with the Soviet Union.

The statement was prepared by the U. S. delegation to the recent United Nations General Assembly, but Dulles said it had been reviewed by President Eisenhower and was being released at the President's suggestion.

The general tenor of the statement was that economic and social problems have now come to the forefront in the cold war.

On other topics, Dulles made these main points:

1. The United States talks with Red China through ambassadors at Geneva have been a disappointing failure to the extent that some of the things which would make the talks useful have not been done. Dulles cited notably the fact that 13 Americans are still imprisoned despite Red Chinese agreement last September to release them expeditiously.

2. It was common worked knowledge, in Dulles' words, that the Western powers were prepared in 1954 to join in united action against Red China unless there was an Indochina truce. Dulles made this comment in response to a question based on a Life magazine article to be published Thursday, as to whether a United States policy of "deterrence" had prevented the failure of the Indochina conference.

The conference resulted in loss of half of Viet Nam to the Communists and at the time was considered a severe defeat for the Western powers. The question indicated that the Life article conveyed a Dulles claim that the conference had in fact been a kind of success for United States policy.

3. Dulles said the United States would have used whatever military weapons were in hand in action against Red China. This was in reply to a question as to whether atomic bombs would have been employed in the event that the Indochina war had not been settled.

4. Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev made a personal attack on President Eisenhower last month primarily because, in Dulles' view, the Soviets are extremely sensitive to any denunciations of their control of Eastern European satellite states.

5. He has no reason to believe Britain will propose that the United States join in a joint Middle East aid program. If Britain has such a plan, Dulles said, the United States will be glad to consider it. But he

Some Comply, Some Defy New Jim Crow Travel Ban

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An order by the Interstate Commerce Commission to end segregation on railroad and bus facilities and in waiting rooms became effective Tuesday.

Some Southern officials began at once to comply with the order. Others voiced strong opposition to the rule.

In Louisiana, Gov. Robert F. Kennon gave orders for continued segregation of white persons and Negroes on public carriers within the state's borders.

Steps were also taken in Mississippi for continued enforcement of segregation laws in rail and bus stations; signs separating the races remained posted in rail and bus stations at Jackson, Gulfport and Greenwood.

Police stood by to enforce segregation measures at the Illinois Central Railroad station at Jackson, if necessary.

Mayor A. S. Scott of Laurel, Miss., said the city will erect new signs at train and bus stations if the carriers remove those already said he doubts published reports that Britain will suggest such a move.

up. Segregation will continue, he declared.

Signs denoting segregated facilities in railroad stations at Montgomery, Ala., came down Tuesday but Police Commissioner Clyde Sellers promised nevertheless to enforce state and city segregation laws.

W. P. Glover, trainmaster of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad at Montgomery said the L&N plans to comply with the ICC rule.

"We have not been issued any orders from city officials, said Glover. "If there is conflict, we will decide how to smooth it over when the time comes."

At Birmingham, Ala., the waiting room for Negroes at the terminal station was marked "colored intrastate passenger waiting room." The room reserved for white passengers before the ICC order now is marked by a sign reading simply: "waiting room."

L&N employees at Birmingham had been instructed to remove all signs designating white and Negro waiting rooms at Alabama terminals.

Drivers for the southeastern Greyhound Bus Line were told by company officials that "intrastate passengers may be courteously requested to comply with the law" but that nothing further be done if a passenger declines to do so.

Agents of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad were directed to remove all "colored" and "white" signs in passenger cars. The line serves six Southern states.

No incidents were reported when segregation signs were removed at rail stations in Atlanta and Savannah, Ga.

Three other rail lines serving the South—the Frisco, the Rock Island, and the Missouri Pacific—took different tactics. An official for the Frisco said at Little Rock, Ark., that the line was removing "white" signs in rooms formerly reserved only for white passengers.

The Missouri Pacific said waiting room signs may be done away with entirely. The Rock Island said separate waiting rooms would be continued but that the Rock Island doesn't intend to police them.

Some Comply, Some Defy New Jim Crow Travel Ban

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

An order by the Interstate Commerce Commission to end segregation on railroad and bus facilities and in waiting rooms became effective Tuesday.

Some Southern officials began at once to comply with the order. Others voiced strong opposition to the rule.

In Louisiana, Gov. Robert F. Kennon gave orders for continued segregation of white persons and Negroes on public carriers within the state's borders.

Steps were also taken in Mississippi for continued enforcement of segregation laws in rail and bus stations; signs separating the races remained posted in rail and bus stations at Jackson, Gulfport and Greenwood.

Police stood by to enforce segregation measures at the Illinois Central Railroad station at Jackson, if necessary.

Mayor A. S. Scott of Laurel, Miss., said the city will erect new signs at train and bus stations if the carriers remove those already up. Segregation will continue, he declared.

Signs denoting segregated facilities in railroad stations at Montgomery, Ala., came down Tuesday but Police Commissioner Clyde Sellers promised nevertheless to enforce state and city segregation laws.

W. P. Glover, trainmaster of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad at Montgomery said the L&N plans to comply with the ICC rule.

"We have not been issued any orders from city officials, said Glover. "If there is conflict, we will decide how to smooth it over when the time comes."

At Birmingham, Ala., the waiting room for Negroes at the terminal station was marked "colored intrastate passenger waiting room." The room reserved for white passengers before the ICC order now is marked by a sign reading simply: "waiting room."

L&N employees at Birmingham had been instructed to remove all signs designating white and Negro waiting rooms at Alabama terminals.

Drivers for the southeastern Greyhound Bus Line were told by company officials that "intrastate passengers may be courteously requested to comply with the law" but that nothing further be done if a passenger declines to do so.

Agents of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad were directed to remove all "colored" and "white" signs in passenger cars. The line serves six Southern states.

No incidents were reported when segregation signs were removed at rail stations in Atlanta and Savannah, Ga.

Three other rail lines serving the South—the Frisco, the Rock Island, and the Missouri Pacific—took different tacks. An official for the Frisco said at Little Rock, Ark., that the line was removing "white" signs in rooms formerly reserved only for white passengers.

The Missouri Pacific said waiting room signs may be done away with entirely. The Rock Island said separate waiting rooms would be continued but that the Rock Island doesn't intend to police them.

Did Prophets Goof?

With large areas of the eastern seaboard getting their heaviest winter in about a decade or so, maybe the local "mild-weather" prophets should go into a late huddle and try a reverse.

Many of the amateur forecasters hereabouts snickered when a few of the oldtimers, backed by almanac warnings, declared we are in for an old-fashioned spell of snow and ice. Maybe the "mild-weather" believers will turn out right after all, but at least they seem to be off to a slow start.

have been known to bite children and start shouting in unknown tongues. The average joe apparently doesn't mind filling in the blanks when the the blanks are big enough.

Ohio Highway Chief Plans Prodding For U. S. Action

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Highway Director Samuel Linzell may write Ohio congressmen urging speedy action on a federal road-building program.

He declared if he delays awarding contracts on road improvements involving interstate highways too long in hopes of getting federal money, he will lose construction time.

"It's quite a problem. We don't know what to do," Linzell said. "It's very vital that we get an early decision on the federal program."

The director tentatively set mid-March as the time when he must know whether federal aid will be available for Ohio interstate road projects.

If it is not by the deadline, the projects will be set up to be financed partly with state highway bond revenues.

The state has about 30 million dollars in projects involving interstate roads for which contract sale dates have been "fairly well crystallized" and if federal money is available, about 10 million dollars would be forthcoming.

But if the federal funds do not materialize, the 10 million dollars will come from state bond funds, Linzell said.

Linzell said he depends on the Legislative Committee of State Highway Officials to let Congress know the desire of highway directors. "But I might write something to our own Ohio congressmen," he added.

If federal aid is forthcoming quickly for interstate projects, that will speed up state work on roads not on the interstate system, the director said, because projects scheduled for next year could begin sooner.

The main interstate highways in Ohio include U.S. 40, U.S. 25, U.S. 42, U.S. 20, north of Columbus, Ohio 3 south of Columbus, Ohio 14 and Ohio 18.

The three major projects that would be affected by federal money are Mount St. in Columbus, the Cleveland Innerbelt, Superior St. to Lakeland, and Mill Creek Expressway in Cincinnati, Padlock St. to Town St.

Monaco is a small place, about eight square miles which is smaller than Philadelphia which is 129.7 square miles. In this eight square miles are three towns, Monaco, Condamine and Monte Carlo where the gambling house is situated. The place is beautiful, on the Mediterranean, and the weather is perfect.

The main industry is gambling, the Casino having been founded by Francois Blanc who, his Homburg concession ending, got one in Monte Carlo from Prince Charles III. It is now rented to a Greek. Well, that is what Grace Kelly is getting into. In the future, the Kellys from Philadelphia will be addressed as serenities in Monaco but the finest title for any American is just plain Mister and Missus as Benjamin Franklin told the French. They tell me that one American gal who got into the Your Highness set wants folks who are to dine with her in a restaurant to stand at the door awaiting her arrival. That is not the way Americans live and here in this country we do not recognize titles.

So, I say, good luck to Mr. and Mrs. Grimaldi when they get that way, and may, to coin a phrase, their troubles be little ones.

British South Pole Base Is Set Up

LONDON (AP)—The British Royal Society has announced the advance party of its antarctic expedition has landed at a good base almost directly across Antarctica from the American expedition in the McMurdo Sound area. A Russian party also is in the antarctic.

All the expeditions are cooperating with scientists from many other countries in gathering data for the worldwide geophysical year studies of 1957-58.

New State Education Board Slated To Move Cautiously

By ART PARKS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (P)—Twenty-three total strangers held up their right hands last week, repeated the oath of office, and found themselves suddenly and collectively in complete charge of Ohio's multi-million-dollar public school program.

It was a moment for which the 21 men and two women were scarcely prepared.

Every step they took last week in the hours after the swearing-in ceremony was a pioneering one. So will every step they take in the next few months. And every step will be a cautious one lest the entire new state board of education fall flat on its face.

The chances for the board stubbing its collective toe are numerous as it tries to thread its way through the pitfalls which are bound to confront a big new board in a big new job.

Some of the members' bright and confident smiles wavered a little as the magnitude of the jobs they had taken on became apparent during the hours which followed the oath-taking.

And there was none who objected when their new president, Robert A. Manchester, a Youngstown lawyer, told them:

"We are going to take things slow."

When board members took their oaths, the position of state director of education automatically ceased to exist and the board was cast adrift on an uncharted sea of governmental red tape.

So untutored in the ways of government were some of the members they didn't even know how to make out their expense accounts.

The board immediately did the only thing it could do. It rehired the lately departed education director, R. M. Eymann, as state superintendent of public instruction. It also rehired his whole staff in the state department of education.

There probably will be some personnel changes later — there may even be a new superintendent of public instruction—but for the time being, at least, the rehiring put the state education system back in business.

Last week's was a somewhat rude and jolting beginning for a system which has been advocated for nearly a score of years.

Gov. John W. Bricker and both political party platforms supported the state school board idea as far back as 1938, but when the proposal went to the electorate in

Diversification Said Key To Fair's Success

COLUMBUS (P)—The president of the Ohio Fair Managers Assn. says "diversification" is hiking attendance at county fairs.

Charles J. Betsch of Chillicothe, at the opening of the group's 31st annual convention yesterday, said more fairs are reaching out for variety to interest the widest possible number of people.

Betsch said many county fairgrounds are becoming a year-around community centers, with buildings used for club meetings, demonstrations and shows.

Betsch, secretary of the Ross County Fair, said horse racing at many small fairs is a handicap rather than an asset.

He said the Ross County Fair Board is considering dropping horse racing after noting the trotting competition operated at a loss.

Miss Goldie V. Scheible of Dayton, association executive secretary, believes fair visitors are more interested in "people doing things" than in displays.

Miss Scheible, also secretary of the Montgomery County Fair, said county schools will be asked to provide demonstrations of school work for the 1956 exposition, instead of exhibits of results.

Fourth A-Sub Set For Construction

WASHINGTON (P)—Construction of the Navy's fourth atomic submarine, and the first to be built in a government shipyard, will start officially on Jan. 25.

The Navy announced Wednesday the date for laying the keel of the submarine Swordfish at the Portsmouth, N.H., naval shipyard. About three years will be required to complete the work.

Girl, 21, Spanked; She Found Hanged

TAIPEI, Formosa (P)—Lin Tsai-Tsao, 21, refused to eat after her mother told her not to wear "tomboyish and undignified" blue jeans and spanked her.

Wednesday she was found dead—hanged.

1939 as a constitutional amendment it was beaten.

The idea languished until the 1953 session of the General Assembly approved its submission again to the voters. In November of that year it carried by a 219-500-vote majority. But the amendment left the makeup of the board to the Legislature.

That laid the groundwork for one of the big battles of the 1955 legislative session.

Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche wanted a nine-member board appointed by the governor. Rep. William L. Manahan (R-Defiance), chairman of the House Education Committee, wanted a nine-member elected board.

The Republican-controlled Senate thought the appellate court districts—in which members of a nine-member board would have campaigned—were too big and plumped for a 23-member board, one from each of the state's congressional districts.

The Senate won.

So the next couple of years will be the proof of the pudding: Whether the electorate was wise in vesting school administration in a group of laymen and whether a 23-member board can move fast enough to do the job expected of it.

(Tomorrow: The Job Cut Out for the Board.)

New N-S Turnpike Estimate Sought

COLUMBUS (P)—Ohio Highway Director S. O. Linzell says a tentative agreement has been reached with consultants for revised estimates on the proposed north-south turnpike.

He said the new studies will center mainly on the center section from Springfield to near Delaware, which Ohio Turnpike Commission officials have proposed be a free-way linking toll road sections to Cincinnati and Conneaut.

Linzell said the J. E. Greiner Co. of Baltimore, which surveyed turnpike construction factors, indicated the new data would be ready in about four weeks.

2 Extremes In Fashions Awaiting Ladies In Spring

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (P)—Ladies will look ladylike this spring, whether in slim daytime sheath dresses that fit them like the paper on the wall, or in floating clouds of chiffon after dark.

There are two extremes in the new fashions for spring, as shown this week to some 200 visiting fashion editors representing newspapers throughout the country. One is the straight, narrow, understated column silhouette. The other is the strictly feminine, often full-skirted, always flattering cocktail or evening gown.

Roxane, designing for Samuel Winston, revives a gentle and nostalgic fashion in her pleated chiffon short formal dresses. An outstanding example is a dress of gossamer-thin black silk chiffon, its full skirt using yards and yards of tiny pleats, its bodice smoothly fitted with neckline scooped to the back, with a waist-vey Berin, also shows a beautiful and feminine collection accenting slim lines for daytime, full skirts for party wear, and her signature touches such as lace appliques and inserts, delicate embroidery and subtle dressmaker touches.

Editors got a capsule picture of junior styles for spring in a combined showing of youthful styles by Mr. Mort, Junior Sophisticates and Reich-Goldfarb, all of which follow the main lines of the adult mode in slim lines for daytime, frou-frou for evening and distinction in beauty and variety of fabrics.

4 Lima Strikers Plead Innocent

WAPAKONETA (P)—Four striking employees of the Westinghouse Electric Corp. plant in Lima pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of hurling stones through a window of the home of a returned plant worker.

The four, Louis A. Metzger, Walter L. Morrison, Marion K. Vermillion and Emmett Shively, all of Lima, were indicted last week by the Auglaize County grand jury for destruction of property.

Common Pleas Judge Jacob T. Koenig said trial would be set for sometime in February. The group is accused of smashing a window at the home of Harley Blank of near Waynesfield last Dec. 13.

Toledo Quint Sparkles In Mid-Am Play

Rockets' 71-69 Win Over BeeGees Tops Ohio Cage Schedule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eddie Melvin's Toledo Rockets, a darkhorse candidate for the Mid-American Conference title, moved into a first place tie with Marshall in the tough seven-team loop last night with a 71-69 victory over Bowling Green.

Toledo's triumph highlighted an eight-game Ohio college basketball card which also saw six Ohio Conference teams in action.

The Rockets moved out to a 39-35 halftime advantage against the stubborn Falcons as Jim Ray paced the winners with 22 points. Toledo grabbed a 56-54 lead midway in the second half and never lost it.

The Falcons, who suffered their fourth conference setback against only one victory, were led by Chrystal (Boo) Ellis with 23 markers.

In Ohio Conference activity, Heidelberg squeaked past Mount Union, 71-68. Wittenberg registered a 92-87 victory over Muskingum and Wooster swamped Kenyon, 95-59.

The Student Princes won their first conference game of the season as center Bob Bauer scored 22. Mount Union's Don Talbert took scoring honors with 35 tallies in the losing battle.

Wittenberg rallied in the final minute to beat Muskingum. Forward Jack Hawken and center Terry Deems sparked the Tigers to victory with 30 and 24 points, respectively. Deems scored all his points in the second half.

Wooster charged to a 45-17 half-time lead and was never headed. Guard Dick Garcia registered 22 for the winners.

Unbeaten Defiance rolled to its sixth straight triumph by pasting Ohio Northern, 94-75, in a Mid-Ohio Conference game. Forward Joe Hockenberry paced the Yellow Jackets with 34 points.

In other games, Akron captured its 11th win in 12 starts with a 81-79 decision over Kent State. Mike Harkins was the big gun with 36 points.

Bob Atterholt's 21 markers helped Youngstown topple Westminster, 80-77. He shared scoring honors with the loser's Jim Riley.

Central State crushed Ohio Wesleyan, 109-61, for its eighth win in nine games. The winning Marauders were paced by forward Charles Jones' 25 points.

Hogan, Groaner Team For Charity

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Ben Hogan comes out of retirement tomorrow for charity, but his benevolence may not extend to other pros entered in the Bing Crosby Golf Tournament.

Blazing Ben, who retired last June after failing to win the National Open, turned in a nifty 65 in a practice round yesterday at Cypress Point and remarked, "I was putting better than I have in two years."

Both he and his crooner partner in the pro-amateur meet had said before that practice round that they did not expect they would raise a winning sweat during the $15,000, 54-hole tourney.

NCAA Parley Winds Up In Cool Manner

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The golden anniversary convention of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. must go down as one of the calmest, cooler sessions of an organization that has produced many a stormy meeting.

Today the delegates were heading home, and all that remained on the scene was the council, or policy-directing body, to appoint new members of the important Television, Executive and Tournament committees.

Little happened in the convention that was not anticipated. Here is a wrap-up of some of the main items of interest:

The NCAA voted to continue controlled football television in 1956. It probably will be in similar fashion to regional and national TV last fall but the plan itself will be mapped out by the 1956 TV Committee and approved by two-thirds of the voting members.

The NCAA voted to inaugurate its own national so-called small college basketball championship tournament, over the protests of the already well-established National Assn. of Intercollegiate Athletics, which conducts its tournament at Kansas City. Best guess is that the new NCAA college division will eventually kill NAIA.

Effective next year, the basketball season will start Oct. 15 instead of Nov. 1, and spring practice was abolished.

Temple '5' Draws Eye In College Play

NEW YORK (AP)—Temple wasn't supposed to set the college basketball world on fire this season, but it's rapidly becoming the nation's Cinderella team.

The Owls had an 11-10 record last season. They were hopeful, but not overly optimistic, going into the current campaign. Duquesne, La Salle and Syracuse were some of the clubs rated ahead of them among the Eastern independents.

Today, however, Temple showed a perfect 9-0 slate and was one of four major schools remaining unbeaten. The others are San Francisco (12-0), Dayton (11-0) and St. Francis of Brooklyn (9-0).

Last night, the Owls, ranked 10th in the latest Associated Press poll, whipped Villanova 80-73 after rallying late in the game.

Duke's sixth-ranked Blue Devils were the only others among the country's top 10 teams to see action. They beat Clemson 109-80.

Hal (King) Lear scored 37 points to lead Temple to its victory. Villanova battled the Owls on even terms at 70-70 until Hal Reinfield hit on a three-point play. Guy Rodgers connected on a jump shot and Lear converted two free throws for a seven-point spree.

The Owls' other victims this season include Kentucky and two Ivy League clubs, Princeton and Penn.

Walnut To Donate Game Proceeds To Polio Drive

Proceeds of the Kingston-Walnut basketball game which will be played Saturday night, will go to the current Polio drive.

The non-league game will be played at Walnut instead of Kingston as previously reported.

Unbeaten Kittens Seek Seventh Win

Two perfect league records will go on the block Friday night when Circleville's unbeaten Kittens tangle with Wilmington's reservists here.

Both Circleville and Wilmington reserves hold identical 3-0 SCOL records but the Hurricanes have one loss out of seven starts in all competition for the season.

Circleville's Kittens had a real battle last Friday before finally downing a tough Hillsboro quintet, 58-54.

The Hurricane reservists didn't have any trouble in dealing with Waverly's seconds last Friday as they ran past them, 53-40.

IN THIS tussle, Wilmington's Steve Rainer was held to less than 20 points for the first time this season although he still took scoring honors for the evening with 13 tallies.

Fred Garner is the Kittens' big scorer and a scoring battle may well develop between he and Rainer.

In the varsity contest Friday night, the Tigers will be seeking their second SCOL triumph in four starts while Wilmington will be attempting to make it four in a row.

Wilmington stands all alone in the top position with Washington C. H. as its closest rival with a 3-1 record.

In an all-out attempt to fill every single seat in the 2200-capacity gym, Friday night has been designated as "Fill The Gym" night. All students accompanied with an adult, will be admitted free.

Bulldogs Drop 47-45 Decision To Mt. Sterling

New Holland's battling Bulldogs dropped a hair-raising 47-45 non-league basketball tilt to Mt. Sterling Tuesday night at Mt. Sterling.

As, against, Ashville last Friday, the Bulldogs had a horrible second period when they meshed the nets for only five points while the Mounts chalked up 15 markers to take a 30-18 point half-time lead.

New Holland's hoopers made a rally and threatened to snatch the victory from their hosts but fell short of their goal and thus absorbed their fifth defeat in 11 starts.

Only 19 charity tosses were attempted during the exciting tilt with both teams making five. New Holland has 12 chances while Mt. Sterling had only seven tries from the charity lane.

SCORING honors went to New Holland's Large who racked up 18 points. Phillips led Mt. Sterling's offense with 16 tallies.

New Holland's unbeaten reserves ran their streak to 11 as they downed the Mounts, 31-21. Prior to their 40-39 reserve loss to New Holland last Friday, Ashville's reservists' only loss was to Mt. Sterling, 30-20, last November.

Bevo Francis Still Rated Top Player

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Bevo Francis, who had the basketball world buzzing when he played for little Rio Grande College in Ohio, is still scoring points at a pretty good clip, and his coach says he's a better player.

Francis is averaging 23.4 points with the Boston Whirlwinds, who are touring the country with the Harlem Globetrotters, the Philadelphia Sphas and the Washington, D. C., Generals.

His current average is nowhere near the 50.01 points he averaged at Rio Grande in the 1952-53 and 1953-54 seasons, but as Boston Coach Sid Goldberg said in Salt Lake City yesterday:

"His competition against the play for pay boys is much stiffer than at Rio Grande, where he played against many junior college teams. And his whirlwind average has been built up during a back-breaking schedule of more than 300 games in the past two years."

"Bevo was clumsy in college."

Injuries Fatal To Jockey, 18

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Jockey LeRoy Nelson, 18, died today from head injuries suffered in a spill at the Agua Caliente, Mex., track Sunday. He never recovered consciousness after the accident.

Nelson was either kicked by a hoof or struck the rail when his mount fell over another horse which had gone down with a broken leg.

His wife, Sherry, was at his bedside when he died.

Cadillac

Not Wealthy... Just Wise!

Most people think that the gentleman who owns and drives a new Cadillac must necessarily be blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

But the truth of the matter is that a great many motorists of relatively modest means—like the happy man you see here—sit at the wheel of the "car of cars."

For wisdom and practicality lead to Cadillac—just as surely as prominence and prosperity!

Listen, for a moment, to this remarkable assembly of facts—and see if you don't agree.

The Series Sixty-Two Coupe, the beautiful and inspiring motor car pictured above... costs just a few dollars more than many cars in the "medium-price" bracket.

Cadillac's dependability is so extraordinary that the car is virtually free from all but the purely routine requirements of service.

A Cadillac stretches a gallon of gasoline over so many miles that it is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in this regard.

And a Cadillac will retain its value over the years better than any other automobile in the land.

The conclusion is, we think, self-evident: Cadillac ownership is not only wonderful and thrilling—but sound and sensible as well.

Why not stop in soon for a look and a ride? You'll discover the most beautiful Cadillac ever built... the finest-performing Cadillac of all time... and the greatest value in Cadillac history.

That's Cadillac's magical combination for 1956—and it's waiting for you now in our showroom.

Toledo Quint Sparkles In Mid-Am Play

Rockets' 71-69 Win Over BeeGees Tops Ohio Cage Schedule

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eddie Melvin's Toledo Rockets, a darkhorse candidate for the Mid-American Conference title, moved into a first place tie with Marshall in the tough seven-team loop last night with a 71-69 victory over Bowling Green.

Toledo's triumph highlighted an eight-game Ohio college basketball card which also saw six Ohio Conference teams in action.

The Rockets moved out to a 39-35 halftime advantage against the stubborn Falcons as Jim Ray paced the winners with 22 points. Toledo grabbed a 56-54 lead midway in the second half and never lost it.

The Falcons, who suffered their fourth conference setback against only one victory, were led by Chrystal (Boo) Ellis with 23 markers.

In Ohio Conference activity, Heidelberg squeaked past Mount Union, 71-68, Wittenberg registered a 92-87 victory over Muskingum and Wooster swamped Kenyon, 95-59.

The Student Princes won their first conference game of the season as center Bob Bauer scored 22. Mount Union's Don Talbert took scoring honors with 35 tallies in the losing battle.

Wittenberg rallied in the final minute to beat Muskingum. Forward Jack Hawken and center Terry Deems sparked the Tigers to victory with 30 and 24 points, respectively. Deems scored all his points in the second half.

Wooster charged to a 45-17 half-time lead and was never headed. Guard Dick Garcia registered 22 for the winners.

Unbeaten Defiance rolled to its sixth straight triumph by pasting Ohio Northern, 94-75, in a Mid-Ohio Conference game. Forward Joe Hockenberry paced the Yellow Jackets with 34 points.

In other games, Akron captured its 11th win in 12 starts with a 81-79 decision over Kent State. Mike Harkins was the big gun with 36 points.

Bob Atterholt's 21 markers helped Youngstown topple Westminster, 80-77. He shared scoring honors with the loser's Jim Riley.

Central State crushed Ohio Wesleyan, 109-61, for its eighth win in nine games. The winning Marauders were paced by forward Charles Jones' 25 points.

Doak Walker Eyes His Football Finale

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sunday's pro bowl game between the stars of the eastern and western conferences of the National Football League will mark Doak Walker's final appearance as a player.

"This will be my last game," said the Detroit Lions' halfback. "I'm in good condition and ready for my best effort, which I want to be a really good one."

"I'm severing all connection with football. It has been good to me and I've made a lot of friends."

Bulldogs Drop 47-45 Decision To Mt. Sterling

New Holland's battling Bulldogs dropped a hair-raising 47-45 non-league basketball tilt to Mt. Sterling Tuesday night at Mt. Sterling.

As, against Ashville last Friday, the Bulldogs had a horrible second period when they meshed the nets for only five points while the Mounts chalked up 15 markers to take a 30-18 point half-time lead.

New Holland's hoopers made a rally and threatened to snatch the victory from their hosts but fell short of their goal and thus absorbed their fifth defeat in 11 starts.

Only 19 charity tosses were attempted during the exciting tilt with both teams making five. New Holland has 12 chances while Mt. Sterling had only seven tries from the charity lane.

SCORING honors went to New Holland's Large who racked up 18 points. Phillips led Mt. Sterling's offense with 16 tallies.

New Holland's unbeaten reserves ran their streak to 11 as they downed the Mounts, 31-21. Prior to their 40-39 reserve loss to New Holland last Friday, Ashville's reservists' only loss was to Mt. Sterling, 30-20, last November.

Bevo Francis Still Rated Top Player

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Bevo Francis, who had the basketball world buzzing when he played for little Rio Grande College in Ohio, is still scoring points at a pretty good clip, and his coach says he's a better player.

Francis is averaging 23.4 points with the Boston Whirlwinds, who are touring the country with the Harlem Globetrotters, the Philadelphia Sphas and the Washington, D. C., Generals.

His current average is nowhere near the 50.01 points he averaged at Rio Grande in the 1952-53 and 1953-54 seasons, but as Boston Coach Sid Goldberg said in Salt Lake City yesterday:

"His competition against the play for pay boys is much stiffer than at Rio Grande, where he played against many junior college teams. And his whirlwind average has been built up during a back-breaking schedule of more than 300 games in the past two years."

"Bevo was clumsy in college.

Injuries Fatal To Jockey, 18

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Jockey LeRoy Nelson, 18, died today from head injuries suffered in a spill at the Agua Caliente, Mex., track Sunday. He never recovered consciousness after the accident.

Nelson was either kicked by a hoof or struck the rail when his mount fell over another horse which had gone down with a broken leg.

His wife, Sherry, was at his bedside when he died.

Cadillac

Not Wealthy... Just Wise !

Most people think that the gentleman who owns and drives a new Cadillac must necessarily be blessed with an abundance of this world's goods.

But the truth of the matter is that a great many motorists of relatively modest means—like the happy man you see here—sit at the wheel of the "car of cars."

For wisdom and practicality lead to Cadillac—just as surely as prominence and prosperity!

Listen, for a moment, to this remarkable assembly of facts—and see if you don't agree.

The Series Sixty-Two Coupe, the beautiful and inspiring motor car pictured above... costs just a few dollars more than many cars in the "medium-price" bracket.

Cadillac's dependability is so extraordinary that the car is virtually free from all but the purely routine requirements of service.

A Cadillac stretches a gallon of gasoline over so many miles that it is actually the rival of much smaller, lighter cars in this regard.

And a Cadillac will retain its value over the years better than any other automobile in the land.

The conclusion is, we think, self-evident: Cadillac ownership is not only wonderful and thrilling—but sound and sensible as well.

Why not stop in soon for a look and a ride?

You'll discover the most beautiful Cadillac ever built... the finest-performing Cadillac of all time... and the greatest value in Cadillac history.

That's Cadillac's magical combination for 1

Five County League Basketball Tilts On Tap For Friday Night

Five County League basketball games are scheduled for Friday night with the league-leading Ashville Broncos, winners of 11 straight games, taking the bye.

Monroe's Indians will be seeking their seventh consecutive win when they host Darby's Trojan basketballers.

Coach Bill Wolfe's Indians have a 5-1 league record and share second place with Jackson's Wildcats. Monroe, with ten wins, has only a loss to Pickaway to mar its record.

Darby stands 3-3 in league competition and owns a 6-7 season overall mark.

A REAL battle may develop when Coach Bob Malick's New Holland's Bull dogs tangle with Pickaway on the latter's court.

New Holland also has a 3-3 season slate but stand 6-5 overall for the season.

Coach Bill Barentson's Pirates, on the other hand, haven't been doing so well lately and are about due to have a good night. Pickaway holds a 2-4 league record and has won

Satterfield Chin Takes Pounding

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Satterfield's chin got in his way again last night, keeping him once more from crossing the threshold to heavyweight title contention.

Johnny Holman, a hulking 201-pounder with the reach of an octopus, catapulted three long rights to Satterfield's sensitive button.

Three times Satterfield, outweighed by 17 pounds, fell like someone yelled: "Timber!"

He went down for a nine count in the second round of the televised fight in Chicago Stadium, for eight in the third and finally the thing was stopped in the eighth.

Chamber And Jaycee Leaders Support Southend Park Idea

Prompt Action Recommended By Cook, Webb

Both Men Explain Groups Have Yet To Announce Views

Construction of a playground in Circleville's Southend area, sought for many years, today received the strong support of leaders of both Chambers of Commerce.

A lease on 2.4 acres of property south of the old Sears Canning factory site has been drawn up and is to be presented to city council at its next meeting set for Jan. 17.

The property, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Eshelman, is being offered to the city, as it was five years ago, for $1. per year.

Ed Webb, president of the Jaycees, said the organization, which has supported the idea for many years, would probably endorse this project at its board of directors meeting Thursday.

He added he did not know whether the group would lend financial assistance, but stated that funds in the organization's treasury which are earmarked for community projects could be used if the members would approve.

FROM A personal viewpoint, Webb said he is strongly for the playground, and added "it was a shame that it was not set up years ago when it was first proposed in City Council."

Lew Cook, secretary of the local Chamber of Commerce, declared that the Chamber probably will study the matter at its noon meeting next Tuesday.

He offered his personal services for the playground site saying that "I would be glad to help out on this project since it has my whole-hearted support."

He went on to say that this playground could very well help prevent juvenile delinquency and for that reason deserves strong backing.

Cook declared the Chamber probably would want to give the matter a thorough study before making an endorsement although, he said, he felt the Chamber definitely would like the idea.

The Rotary Club, which seems

Monacan Panel Pleased By Prince

MONTE CARLO (AP) — The committee on Monacan traditions has messaged Prince Rainier III that it is mightily pleased at his prospects of having a family.

A cable sent to the prince in the United States by State Counselor Louis Notari, committee president, extended its "most sincere felicitations and wishes of happiness on the occasion of his engagement to Miss Grace Kelly," the movie actress.

The 368-acre realm of Prince Rainier would be absorbed into the French republic if he should die without an heir.

Beardless Lincoln Statue Is Planned

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A new statue of Abraham Lincoln, showing him beardless, as he appeared in Chicago in 1860, is to be built by Dr. Avard Fairbanks, University of Utah sculptor.

Fairbanks was selected Wednesday to build the $35,000 bronze statue by the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Commission. The statue, to be erected in Chicago's Lincoln Square, will be 1 1/4 times larger than Lincoln's actual measurements.

to be spearheading the present playground movement, is giving the matter a thorough study. The group has agreed to contribute financially but members feel there are a number of points which need clarification.

AMONG THESE are the problems of maintenance, equipment and supervision. Since the city is financially unable to care for these problems, funds will have to come somewhere.

Equipment might be purchased from popular subscription funds. One idea for supervision and maintenance funds is through the sale of $25 treasury bonds with the interest to be used for these two things.

The Child Conservation League, which has supported the southend playground for several years, has $100 in its treasury slated for such a project.

According to the lease, the property could be used by the city indefinitely. According to the provisions, either side could terminate the agreement with 30 days notice.

1908 Antarctica Exploration Camp Still In Good Order

By SAUL PETT

CAPE ROYDS, Ross Island, Antarctica (AP) — The base camp used by the first man to come close to the South Pole still stands here at the foot of Mt. Erebus, on a little hollowed-out shelf over the frozen ice of McMurdo Sound.

It is 47 years since England's Ernest Shackleton made his gallant attempt. Forced to turn back 85 miles short of his goal, he and his parties did much notable exploratory and scientific work in the antarctic.

Looking over his camp almost half a century later gives one the sensation of a macabre movie that stopped suddenly, with all action and life frozen in the last motion. There is the sensation too of being on a spot as dismal and bleak as a crater of the moon must be.

The wooden hut, about 40 by 20 feet, has whitened over the years but is still in good condition. Cables criss-crossing over its peak anchor it against the violent antarctic winds. It stands on a slight rise overlooking a saucer-shaped area.

In the center of the saucer is a small pond, unfrozen since it is well protected. Black volcanic ash where nothing ever grew rings it. From the seaside comes the squawking of a small penguin rookery. Overhead ugly skua gulls wait like vultures to pounce on the penguins.

Behind the hut Mt. Erebus rises in an overwhelming white pyramid all the way up to 13,000 feet—the only active volcano in the antarctic.

Scattered around the hut are cans, bales and boxes. Some are half open, or chewed away by the skua gulls. They contain hams, soup, marrow, fat, corn kernels, concentrated fruits and other foodstuffs for man and beast. Those that are unopened are still edible.

At first glance the piles appear helter-skelter. But closer inspection reveals the provisions in groups—hams together, soups together—where the explorers once stored them in the snow.

Some are marked "British Antarctic Expedition 1908." Others were left by the second expedition in 1917. On that one Shackleton never reached his men here on McMurdo Sound. He took one group to the Weddell Sea, on the other side of the continent. Heavy ice trapped his ship, then carried it hundreds of miles off course, preventing the linkup.

It was on the first expedition that Shackleton jumped off from here for the pole, using Manchurian drag sledges along the 800-mile route.

3rd Man Nabbed For Bank Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP) — The third of a trio of men charged with the $10,000 holdup of the First National Bank of Forest, Hardin County, last Nov. 22 has been arrested in Canada, the FBI reports.

H. O. Hawkins, special agent in charge of the Cleveland FBI office, said Robert Reginald Harvey, a Canadian citizen, was nabbed at Brantford, Ontario, Jan. 4 by Canadian authorities and was being held there.

Harvey and John Machibroda of Hamilton, Ontario, and Donald Eric Hall, now in custody in Cleveland, have been charged with the robbery at Forest.

Fluoridation Gets Nod In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — The Board of Health today recommended fluoridation of the city's water supply.

In a report to Mayor Robert F. Wagner the board recommended one millionth part of fluorine in the water.

At this level, there would be approximately a 60 per cent reduction in new dental decay among both children and adults, the report said.

Jail Prisoners Allowed To Cook

CATLETTSBURG, Ky. (AP) — Prisoners in the city jail can cook light snacks again—even if it smells. The City Council Wednesday reversed an order banning use of a heating stove because of complaints about odors arising from prisoners' culinary efforts.

Wayne Hayes Eyes Bid For Governorship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Wayne L. Hayes (D-Ohio) says he is about "90 per cent" inclined to run for re-election, but that there is a remote possibility he might try for the Democratic nomination for governor of Ohio.

Hayes made the statement to newsmen yesterday after attending a conference of supporters of Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn).

Don Gosney of Columbiana, who heads the Kefauver-for-president forces in Ohio, indicated the Tennessee would not contest Gov. Frank J. Lausche for presidential delegates.

"I wouldn't bet on it either way," said Gosney after he and other Kefauver supporters asked the senator if he plans to enter the Ohio primary May 8. Gosney said the Ohio primary comes only a few weeks before the Florida and California primaries which Kefauver is already committed to enter. He said this would complicate campaigning in three states.

"And I think it's more important for him (Kefauver) to beat Adlai Stevenson," Gosney added, "than it is to beat a favorite son like Lausche."

The five-term Ohio governor has announced he is available as a "favorite son" presidential candidate, but that he will campaign for U. S. Senator on the Democratic ticket.
